Truck Fall Kills Mill Valley Man

Man Waits 3 Hours In Vehicle

A ride home from dinner at Tarantino's Seafood Grotto in Bolinas last night around 9 o'clock ended in death for Otto Zeller, a 70-year-old Mill Valley resident.

The flatbed truck in which Zeller rode as a passenger hurtled off a downgrade on Shoreline Highway one and one-half miles north of Muir Beach and threw Zeller out onto the pavement.

CRASHED TO HALT

The truck crashed to a halt 30 feet down the embankment, with its driver, Joseph William Castleberg of Mill Valley, still in the truck but unconscious.

The accident was not discovered until midnight when Deputy Sheriff John Goff discovered Castleberg in the truck.

Castleberg escaped with cuts and bruises, for which he was treated at Marin General Hospital at 2:37 a.m. The truck was little damaged, landing upright.

Zeller was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Zeller's death was the 18th motor vehicle death in Marin this year but only the 17th counted as a traffic fatality, according to Capt. T. F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol. The truck accident which killed Lewis Elmer McEntyre of Napa June 20 in Tamalpais Valley was not on the public right of way but off the road where excavation was being done for a subdivision.

DEATHS LAST YEAR

Last year at this time there had been 12 Marin County traffic fatalities.

Castleberg, caretaker at the Swiss Club Tell in Mill Valley, told California Highway Patrolmen he and Zeller, who both live at 551 Edgewood Drive, Mill Valley, started out for the Mountain House to eat at 6 p.m. but Zeller wanted to go on to Bolinas. They finished dinner and started back around 8:30 p.m.

"The only thing I remember was that I came to in the truck off the roadway. The right door was open and Otto was gone," said Castleberg.

"I called to him. He didn't answer. I climbed up the road. Then I found Otto. He was lying face down in the road.

Prosecution May Face Marinites

Three Marin County residents were among 12 witnesses called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in Los Angeles Monday and yesterday who may face prosecution for illegal travel to Cuba.

Rep. Edwin E. Willis (D-La.), chairman of the committee, said at the close of the session yesterday that he will ask the justice department to consider prosecution.

The 12 include Joseph Shapiro, a student at University of California at Berkeley and son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Shapiro, 123 Scenic Road, Fairfax. The elder Shapiro is an attorney associated with Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere.

Also listed are John Allen Johnson and Frances Johnson, husband and wife, who live at 1791 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson declined repeatedly to answer questions under the Fifth Amendment.

Johnson said he was born in Oakland in 1913 and received a degree in geology from University of California and later a master's degree in economics. But both he and his wife declined under the Fifth Amendment to say if they had been teachers in the public school system.

(Current records of the Marin County schools office do not list either of the Johnsons as teachers in the county.)

Committee counsel Alfred M. Nittle asked the Johnsons about a reported extended visit to Cuba without state department clearance on their passports. Nettle said the couple went to Cuba in April, 1961, and established residence in Havana. He said they came home to San Anselmo last April.

In all references to this the Johnsons declined to answer. Mrs. Johnson, who refused to answer 23 times, told the committee, "I really don't intend to answer any of your questions." Johnson refused to answer 35 times.

Nittle produced copies of the newspaper, People's World, containing an article signed by John Allen Johnson and datelined Havana.

Violating the state department's travel quarantine to Cuba can bring a maximum fine of $5,000 and five years in prison. Purpose of the committee's hearing was to determine if stronger legislation is needed regarding unauthorized travel to Cuba and other Communist countries not recognized by the United States.

BELLS WILL RING OUT TOMORROW

Food, Fireworks, Dance, Parade Set For Holiday

Bells in most Marin communities will ring for independence, and cash registers in most markets and restaurants will ring for commerce tomorrow.

However, most merchants, professional offices and financial houses will be closed in observation of Independence Day. It is a legal holiday for all city and county offices. Post offices will be closed along with all other federal offices.

Nearly all restaurants will be open tomorrow, but there are a few exceptions and some will follow Sunday schedules, opening later in the day. It might be a good idea to phone ahead if you plan to eat out tomorrow.

Only some of the small, independent groceries will be closed tomorrow.

Summer recreation programs are being changed for the holiday. In San Rafael, the city recreation department will be closed and will have its only activities at Albert Field operating, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The children's swimming program at the San Rafael High School pool will be from 8:30 a.m. to noon, but tennis and archery classes will not be held.

The San Rafael High pool will be open from 1 to 5 p.m., but the Terra Linda High School pool, again undergoing repairs, will remain closed until Saturday.

There will be plenty to do tomorrow to celebrate the Fourth and have fun. Bells in church steeples and schools will ring at 11 a.m. and everyone has been urged by President John F. Kennedy to ring

Marin Art And Garden Fair Opens Tonight For 5 Days

The Marin Art and Garden Fair will open a five-day run at the Art and Garden Center in Ross tonight at 6 o'clock.

The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily through Sunday. (See also map, page 14.)

The central theme, "Contemporary Moods," will be expressed in exhibits covering more than 10 acres of outdoor display area at the center.

Exhibitors were to be awarded prizes late this afternoon following all-day judging by Bay Area experts. (Winners in the garden, art, photography and flower arrangements will be published in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.)

Masses of chrysanthemums, hydrangeas and marguerites accenting a new free-form entrance to the center will strike the note of color dominating the design of the show by Henry H. Cole, San Rafael landscape designer.

Special entertainment has been arranged by Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager, starting with a fashion show tonight at 8:30. Members of the Mannequin League of Marin will parade high styles for visitors.

Featured at 11 a.m. every day starting tomorrow will be the clowns Tacki and Tic (except Friday, when "Mayor" Art Finley, television entertainer, will perform). The clowns will reappear at 2 and 4 p.m.

An organ concert will be presented daily at 4:30 and 6 p.m. by Emory Stevenson of San Rafael. Square and folk dancing by the Marin Dance Council will be performed 7:30 p.m. to closing every day. Award winning color slides will be shown in the barn at 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9 p.m.

Attractions tomorrow include a concert by the Terra Linda High School band at 1 p.m.; John Molinari, accordionist at 3 and 5 p.m. and a full scale fun show with music and skits by the Marin Variety Theater at 8:30 p.m. on the Northgate stage.

Dinners will be served starting at 6 p.m. by the Ross Valley Players and snacks will be available in the art area and at booths on the grounds operated by volunteer groups of the county.

Special free parking for visitors has been provided. Space will be available at the College of Marin and on the right-of-way in San Anselmo, with free bus service back and forth to the fair grounds.

Voters Defeat Lagunitas Tax Raise Request

Voters in the Lagunitas School District yesterday gave a decisive 262 to 191 defeat to a proposal to allow an increase from $2 to $2.75 in the district's general tax rate.

Trustees, meeting last night soon after learning of the defeat, did not consider putting the measure up again. It was the third defeat of a tax increase measure in the district within a year. The 75-cent increase was to cover minimum needs, according to Supt. Clifford L. Frye.

The board agreed that the tentative 1963-64 budget of $189,000 would have to be adjusted downward by about $24,000. Trustees took no action last night, but each agreed to take the figures home and see what adjustments could be made. A special budget session will probably be called.

Superintendent Frye said prior to the election that defeat would mean cutting the faculty from the present 16 to 14 teachers. During last night's session, a parent asked if it might be possible to have 15 teachers, despite the defeat. This is one thing trustees will consider.

Of 890 eligible voters, 453 went to the polls yesterday, slightly more than 50 per cent.

Before adjourning, the board went into executive session. No action was taken following the closed session. Mrs. Kondratieff reported she did not know what took place except that it was on "personnel."

Frye, a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, was not available for comment today. He is at Alameda Naval Air Station serving a two-week tour of duty.

The board was reorganized last night with Glen E. Twitchell elected president, replacing Mrs. Marietta Larsen, who retired from the board. John Keilty was re-elected clerk, and Mrs. Georgette Vilas, elected in April, was seated on the board.

Mail Behind Schedule, But Not For ZIP

San Rafael mail distribution ran from one to three hours behind schedule yesterday, but Asst. Postmaster Thomas Falvey said it had nothing to do with the start of "zip."

"Zip" is the post office department's new scheme to join the fashion by making everything "by the numbers." It provides a numbered code to be placed at the end of the address, for speed in sorting mail.

But virtually no mail with "zip" numbers has yet been received, said Falvey; and even if it had, it wouldn't have received speedier handling yesterday.

The trouble, he said, was a combination of the heavy load of July 1 mail ("this is the heaviest first of the month in the entire year," said Falvey) and a large share of inexperienced help working summer vacation relief. Ten regular clerks were off for vacation or other reasons yesterday, Falvey said.

Also off were Postmaster Warren H. Williams and Supt. of Mails Hugh Cassidy.

Commission Confused By Tiburon Conflicts

Marin County Boundary commissioners today listened briefly to rival bids by the city of Belvedere and the proposed city of Tiburon for an unincorporated patch of land, and skirted the dispute by saying they really have little authority to do anything anyway.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, acting chairman of the commission, said the discussion should be continued until Monday at 2 p.m. to give the county counsel time to rule on what the commission might do, if anything.

"We've never had anything like this before, and we want to be sure we do the right thing," Fusselman said.

Belvedere City Atty. William H. MacKay submitted Belvedere's request to annex the land, and Fred C. Hannahs of Tiburon reminded the commission he had already filed a request to circulate incorporations petitions, to include the same land, with the county clerk.

Deputy County Counsel Richard Godino said the incorporation notice "is not properly before the boundary commission," and the commission could act at this time only on the "engineering aspects of Belvedere's annexation proposal."

At Fusselman's request, however, Godino said he would prepare an opinion as to the exact powers of the commission.

The land, south of Tiburon Boulevard, includes professional buildings, post office, and the proposed Belvedere shopping center.

Fair Weather Due For Most

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Most of California will have fair weather through tomorrow, the forecaster said today, but there may be a few showers in the Crescent City area.

Temperatures should be slightly higher at inland points.

The five-day forecast through next Monday said that aside from the possibility of showers early in the period in the extreme north, no rain is expected in Northern or Central California. Temperatures will continue below normal for early July.

Garety To Seek Indictment For Quentin Escape

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety will seek a grand jury indictment July 11 next week against San Quentin convict James Monroe Woosley, 28, who was captured early yesterday with a 15-year-old boy.

The boy is being held at Marin Juvenile Hall for prosecution in juvenile court. He is accused of car theft and helping a prisoner escape from San Quentin.

The boy stole a car from San Rafael Monday night, picked up Woosley near San Quentin's west gate and headed north on Highway 101.

The getaway car overturned at Ignacio, and the pair crawled through a culvert to the east side of Highway 101, then stole a pickup truck. Woosley ran the truck onto railroad tracks and the pair ran into a grassy field, where pursuing officers caught them.

Sheriff Says Search To Go On For Boy

A relentless search for a missing 11-year-old Ross boy will continue through the holiday, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos announced today.

"I've canceled holiday tomorrow for the men because time is important," the sheriff said. "We're not going to pass up anything."

Wayne Frost, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Frost of Redwood City, vanished last Friday from the Cedars Development School in Ross.

An army of searchers tramped through the hills above Ross and Fairfax yesterday without finding a trace of the lost boy. The lad is mute, and the father fears he may have climbed a tree and got hung up on a limb.

Capt. Sidney Stinson, who is coordinating the search, said the men will concentrate today on homes near the school.

The sheriff's mounted posse and volunteer horsemen will joint the hunt tomorrow.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Rail Work Rules Talks Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief negotiator for the nation's railroads said today there has been a "complete breakdown" in negotiations with five railroad unions on a dispute over work rules.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, said the operating unions had refused to accept any part of either of two sets of presidential board recommendations to settle the dispute.

Wolfe said that since every step of the Railroad Labor Act has been exhausted in an effort to reach an agreement with the unions, the companies today notified the unions that the new rules will be put into effect at 12:01 a.m. on Thursday, July 11.

Kennedy Meets On Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy met with top advisers once today and scheduled a second meeting later to weigh Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's vague bid for banning nuclear tests everywhere but underground and for an East-West nonaggression pact.

The Russian leader set forth his suggestions in a major speech in East Berlin.

Kennedy met for an hour this morning to assess all the implications of the address, in an effort to determine how much might be simply propaganda and how much might represent an opening for an East-West accord.

Russia Protests Espionage Arrests

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia today protested the arrest of a Soviet United Nations employee and his wife on spy charges and demanded their release. The United States promptly rejected the demand.

Georgi Kornienko, acting head of the Soviet embassy here, filed the protest with the state department and claimed the diplomat and his wife were entitled to diplomatic immunity from arrest.

A state department spokesman flatly said the Russians involved do not possess such immunity.

The protest concerned the arrest of Ivan Dmitrievich Egorov, 41 and his wife, Alexandria, 39. They were picked up with another couple last night on charges that they conspired over the past six years to steal U.S. military secrets for the Kremlin.

Seven Die In Mohawk Air Crash

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A twin-engine Mohawk airliner, straining to gain altitude in a raging electrical and hail storm, crashed seconds after takeoff yesterday. Seven persons were killed and 36 injured, seven of them critically.

The Martin 404, carrying 40 passengers and a crew of 3, was headed for Newark, N.J. via White Plains, N.Y. It fell into mud about 80 yards off a runway at Rochester-Monroe County Airport, several miles southwest of Rochester.

An investigation was begun by federal aviation officials.

Dr. Ward Ordered To Face Jury

LONDON (AP)—A magistrates court today ordered Dr. Stephen Ward, U.S.-educated osteopath, held for trial on vice charges.

Police claim Ward, 50, is a central figure in the John Profumo-Christine Keeler sex and security scandal which has shaken the Conservative government to its foundations.

After a three-day preliminary hearing, Judge Leo Gradwell ruled that Ward must answer before a jury charges ranging from living on the earnings of prostitutes to procuring an abortion.

Pope May Visit U.S.

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI may become the first pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church to visit the United States.

A high Vatican source said there was a possibility the new pope might visit the New World if an "opportune occasion" presented itself.

Any visit, however, probably would not be made until after the 1964 presidential election.

'Tropic' Not Obscene

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —The Henry Miller novel "Tropic of Cancer" cannot be banned as "hard-core pornography" under California's obscenity statutes, according to a ruling by the State Supreme Court.

The unanimous decision yesterday clarified a confusing situation that had resulted from contradictory rulings in superior courts.

A Marin County book dealer and another in San Diego were acquitted on obscenity charges after selling the book, but a Los Angeles court ruled that the book was obscene.

The high court noted that the state legislature had defined commercial pornography as being "utterly without redeeming social importance."

The decision said, "If the material, however, has literary value, if it is a serious work of literature and art, then it possesses redeeming social importance and obtains the benefit of the constitutional guarantees."

Spencer Must Die

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —The California Supreme Court yesterday upheld the death sentence of Harold Allen Spencer, a convicted Los Angeles murderer.

The 35-year-old painter was sentenced to die in the gas chamber for the $4 robbery and fatal shooting of taxi driver Richard Heatman. The court rejected various contentions that the prosecutor had committed prejudicial error during the trial.

Beckwith Indicted

JACKSON, Miss (AP) — Byron de La Beckwith goes before a state judge today for arraignment on murder charges in the sniper slaying of Negro Civil rights leader Medger W. Evers.

A Hinds County grand jury —composed of 17 white men and one Negro— returned the indictment yesterday. Beckwith, 42, is being held without bond.

Plane With 23 Crashes

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — All 20 passengers and 3 crew members were feared killed today in the crash of a twin-engine airliner.

The New Zealand National Airways DC-3 went down in mountains near its destination, Tauranga, on New Zealand's North Island 95 miles southeast of Auckland.

A ground party set out for wreckage sighted in a heavily wooded area. No sign of life was reported.

Lord Audley, 49, Dies

GRANADA, Spain (UPI)—Lord Audley, 49, husband of Sir Winston Churchill's daughter Sarah, died today after a night-long nightclub tour with his wife.

Hotel employees said the couple returned to the elegant Alhambra Palace Hotel about 5 a.m. and Sarah Churchill went out again immediately afterward. Hotel employees later found Audley in his room, apparently ill. A doctor certified that he died about 6 a.m.

Police said a heart attack apparently caused Audley's death.

Bank Reports Called

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of the currency issued a call today for a statement of the condition of all national banks as of Saturday, June 29.

Strep Infections Lead Marin County Diseases

Streptococcus infections led the list of communicable diseases reported to the Marin County Health Department during the week ending Saturday, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 19 cases of streptococcus infection, six cases of mumps, five cases of gonorrhea two cases of infectious hepatitis and one case of salmonella.

Woman Hits Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Maria Casaurang, 70, drove downtown to see about her insurance and crashed through the AAA's plate glass window. She escaped injury.

Development Names Given

Nine appointments to the executive committee of the Marin County Development Assn. were announced today by the newly elected president, Rex T. Silvernale.

The nine, to serve until next June 30, are: Fred B. Bialek, Fairchild Semiconductor diode plant manager, San Rafael; Leonard E. Blakeley, assistant manager, Wells Fargo Bank, Mill Valley; Norman B. Campbell, business representative of Carpenters Union Locals 35 and 1710, San Rafael; Douglas M. Christensen, president, D. M. Christensen Construction Co., San Rafael; Jack A. Cooper, president, Marco Paper Products Co., San Rafael; Jack Craemer, editor and assistant publisher, Independent - Journal; John D. La Noue, district commercial manager, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., San Rafael; Paul R. Leahy, manager, Title Insurance and Trust Co., San Rafael, and Edward P. Ward, owner, Home and Land Co., Tiburon.

Bialek, Christensen, Cooper and Le Noue are holdovers.

Employees Get Raises In Sausalito

Sausalito city employees will get an across-the-board step and one-half increase retroactive to Monday, the city council decided last night.

In addition, police and firemen, who now get no paid holidays, will receive Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day and Memorial Day as holidays. Those who work the holidays will get compensatory time off.

The wage increase, said Mayor Paul Micou, will bring police and firemen up to third spot in the county, just below San Anselmo and Novato.

The increase had been recommended in a special report by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown for police and firemen only. On insistence of councilman Jan Paul Dyk, the increase was made to apply to all employees.

Attorneys Harry Wainwright and James B. Leech, both of Sausalito, spoke for the Sausalito Employees Assn. Wainwright said a three-step raise "would be a step toward bringing employees to the level of the highest in the county."

Leech, who said he and Wainwright were not charging a fee and therefore "none of their raise goes to us," stressed high cost of living in Sausalito.

William L. Hynes, building inspector for 12 years, advised the council a new employee of the city did much better monetarily than an older one. He cited the difference of $103 between his salary and that of Norman Wohlshlaeger, supervisor of public works.

He also said that Wilma Young, deputy city clerk, makes $430 per month; Hazel Pieraccini, deputy finance officer, and Charleine Strittmatter, city clerk, both make $450, while the new librarian, Cynthia B. Willcox, just hired, makes $600.

"It's not a happy situation," said Hynes.

The council authorized payment of $253 to Cooper for 75 of his 99 accumulated hours of overtime work. It also authorized employing a reserve officer for two months from noon to 4 p.m. to check parking lots and meters, at a cost of $320.

A total library budget of $23,300 was recommended for 1963-64 by Councilman Michael Harris but no final action was taken. The budget is to be discussed again next Tuesday.

The library board had submitted a budget of $27,477, or $6,072 above the 1962-63 budget. This included $5,000 for a full-time person to take the place of two part-time employees, and $4,000 for operation and maintenance. If the increase were granted, said Brown, it would mean a four and one-half cent tax increase.

Councilman Howard Sievers had said the library, according to Mrs. Willcox, serves only 150 people in Sausalito. Mayor Micou said the figure must be wrong, citing book circulation at 4,413 in January, 4,172 in February, 4,684 in March, and 4,215 in April.

Sausalito Chamber's Poll Raps Meter Hikes

An unofficial poll has shown 69 persons against raising parking meters a nickel in downtown Sausalito to 8 persons in favor, the Sausalito City Council was told last night by A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., chamber of commerce president.

The chamber is urging the council to abandon the hike scheduled to become effective July 18.

Following discussion from the audience, mainly against the five-cent rise, Mayor Paul Micou appointed Councilmen Carl W. Gabrielson and Howard Sievers to review the poll and discussion and placed the matter over to next Tuesday.

Ballots were taken from businessmen and non-businessmen by the Marin News, Bjorklund said.

"We don't want it (the hike). There's no reason for it. You don't need it for revenue," Bjorklund told councilmen. He claimed the meters are not being properly maintained nor enforced now.

Also speaking against the hike were George R. Jackson, Paul De Moss, owner of the Seven Seas, John M. Harlan, Marin News publisher, Sally Hettrick and Walter J. Berkeley. Sole supporter was merchant Trav Duro, who said, "If they can't afford a dime, let's keep them out."

The council was told by Buena Vista Heights subdivision developers that they are "not married to" high-rise buildings, that two nine-story apartments, as yet unstarted, may never be built, and one now two stories high may be roofed over at that height.

The council recommended that Buena Vista Heights land be zoned duplex at 2,500 square feet per unit under the new zoning ordinance.

Rob Rose agreed to repair a 76-foot long, six-foot wide crack in Toyon Lane "forthwith" as a moral but not a legal obligation. Rose, Toyon Terrace developer, said specifications must be developed by his engineer, B. J. Whitlow, and by Harding Associates, soils engineers.

Mayor Paul Micou reported the street, on which there are five homes, had "failed, given way and slid down the hillside" and the fire department said it cannot provide fire protection there and police cannot get a patrol car down the street.

Rose believes the street is dedicated to the city. The council says it is not dedicated and repair responsibility lies with Rose.

Rose proposed sharing expenses with the city, but Councilman Michael Harris would have nothing to do with a compromise. He said Rose failed to fulfill promises to the city in the past.

All five property owners were present, Jacques Neuville of 145 Toyon Lane saying he has five children and one has fallen into "this thing," adding "We need it filled immediately."

Dr. P. S. Wyne of 135 Toyon Lane told the council a garbage truck failed to get through Monday and knocked down part of his rock wall. Following a 10-minute recess, Rose offered to repair the street.

The Sausalito City Council also:

1. Accepted low bid of $39,686 by P. E. Van Pelt Co., Oakdale, for a 65-foot aerial ladder truck for the fire department, delivery to be in about seven months. Other bidder was Crown Coach Corp., Los Angeles, at $48,195.

2. Continued to next Tuesday an appeal by Marian Frick from planning commission denial of a use permit to allow her to build 13 shops at Second and Valley streets. Mrs. Frick argued the council is imposing on her a new zoning ordinance which is not yet in effect.

3. Denied an appeal from planning commission denial of a use permit for Robert Yee to construct four apartments and a restaurant at Bridgeway and Spring Street.

4. Approved a conditional fill permit for Sausalito Yacht Harbor to fill a portion of underwater Johnson Street.

5. Authorized City Engineer John L. Hunter to provide center line and grade of Rodeo Avenue and Gordon Street to Bradford H. McNutt of Ardilla Land Co. to allow him to design entrances to the firm's proposed development on Rodeo Hill.

6. Continued to next Tuesday a request by Walter Benson for a policy regarding encroachments.

7. Placed on Sept. 3 agenda hearing an appeal from planning commission denial of a use permit for Sausalito Yacht Club to build a 155-berth public yacht harbor between its clubhouse and Spinnaker Restaurant.

Tomales Board Names Teachers

The Tomales Bay Union School District board hired three teachers and awarded two painting contracts Monday night.

Hired were Mrs. Dora Dull, Mrs. Laura Bacon and Dennis Judd, who will teach at Tomales School.

The board awarded Showalter and Showalter of Sebastopol a $1,116 contract to paint Tomales School and awarded L. A. Valva of Tomales a $300 contract to paint Marshall Schol.

Police Gain In Novato $525,000 New Budget

The Novato City Council last night approved a preliminary budget which calls for expenditures of $525,000 and an income of $538,190, in a four-hour session in which the entire budget was scanned item by item.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget reported the city would have the largest assessed valuation in its history, $23,419,096 compared to $17,567,000 last year.

"This will bring in $70,200 to the city at the 30-cent tax rate," Baget said.

Biggest additions to the budget last night went to the police department. It was given an additional sergeant and patrolman, a right-hand drive truck for marking cars, photographic equipment, shotguns for the patrol cars, another restroom for the police station, and money for pay phone calls.

The public works department was given an additional $3,000 for a back hoe for the street department.

The long council sessions must be telling on the councilmen, because they put in an item of $500 for furniture for the council chambers—insisting that they get cushions for their chairs.

An agreement between the Novato Sanitary District and the city of Novato to install a gasoline tank at the sanitary district's corporation yard was given the council for study.

Mill Valley Bridge Costs Come In High

Reconstruction of LaGoma Street Bridge in Mill Valley will cost $24,065, considerably more than estimated, the Mill Valley City Council learned last night.

The low bid for that amount was submitted by Richardson and von Raesfeld of Petaluma. Bids ranged to a high of $38,306.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks appointed a three-man committee of Councilmen William M. Secor and George D. Monardo and City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants to seek solution of financing. Awarding of the contract is deferred in the meantime.

The Mill Valley City Council last night also:

1. Gave first reading to an amendment to the zoning ordinance, setting up the 1-R-4 (multiple) zone, which provides a minimum 1,500 square feet for the Lytton Square area and 2,500 square feet for the rest of Mill Valley. At present, the city is operating under an interim ordinance with a minimum 3,000 square feet per unit.
2. Formally accepted the "Neighborhood Street Report" submitted by a committee headed by Councilman Michael Wornum. Under this program, the city will set up a small rotating fund to help neighborhoods which want to improve their streets through assessment districts.
3. Learned from City Engineer Stanley M. Bala that Ethel Avenue will be opened to traffic tomorrow, although the reconstruction project is not yet complete. A concrete retaining wall and slide repair have been completed.
4. Appointed Mrs. Hugh Fudenberg of 220 Corte Madera Avenue to the library board to succeed Mrs. Dorothy Peavey, whose term expired.
5. Appointed Pirkle Jones, a photographer, to the architectural advisory committee. Jones lives in San Francisco but will be moving to Mill Valley, where he has property on Lovell Avenue.
6. Deferred the appointment of a new planning commissioner until the July 17 meeting. Under consideration are Paul Camera, Naphtali Knox, and Peter Bogardus.
7. Authorized the city manager to call for bids for repair of a slide on Marion Avenue.
8. Decided to post a "three-ton limit" sign on the Summit Avenue Bridge, and asked the city engineer to draw up plans and specifications for repair of the bridge.
9. Approved a stop sign at West Blithedale and Eldridge Avenue.

Larkspur Sets Taxi Discussion

A request for a taxicab control ordinance, the budget, and a report on interim zoning controls in Larkspur will be discussed by the Larkspur City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

Whether to hire five new city employees and what capital improvements to schedule for the 1963-64 year will be considered as the council continues to work over a $460,719 tentative budget.

Redwood Cab Co. will request the council to enact an ordinance limiting taxicab service in Larkspur to one company.

Also set for discussion is a request for restricted parking on a curve on Chanticleer Avenue north of William Avenue.

Marin Taxpayer Pulls Up Stakes Over Tax Hike

James Gracie of 899 Bridgeway, Sausalito, notified county supervisors by letter yesterday that he's looking for a new home in Nevada because of "proposed 25 per cent increase in (Marin) property taxes."

He said occupants of his mortgaged property can't afford to pay higher rents "and I would be ashamed to ask it of them . . . Every year it is the same old story—another increase in taxes. You are driving this particular taxpayer out of Marin County."

Acting Chairman William D. Fusselman promptly referred the letter to "the supervisor of the district," Peter Behr, who alone voted against the preliminary budget because he thought it too big.

Then a letter from Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. was read, complimenting the board on its capital expenditure program for the probation program.

"That's a switch," exclaimed Fusselman. "Somebody likes what we're doing."

Oil Firm Asks To Explore Off Marin

Richfield Oil Co. wants to explore for oil beneath the ocean off the Marin shore.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors was notified of Richfield's proposal yesterday by A. W. Pfeil, supervising mineral resources engineer for the state lands division. He wrote that the firm's request for permission to make explorations off West Marin, extending to next Jan. 31, would be considered at a land commission meeting at July 25 in Sacramento. He recommended it be approved.

Supervisors, wanting more information, instructed County Administrator Alan Bruce to find out "what is proposed and where."

Supervisor Peter Behr, noting that Shell Oil Co. recently got federal permission for exploration outside the three-mile limit, guessed that Richfield intends to drill closer to shore.

Fifth Rabid Skunk Found

Marin's fifth rabid skunk of the year was reported yesterday by the Marin County Health Department. This one may have bitten a cow on the Inverness ranch of Leland S. Murphy on June 4.

The skunk tangled with a cocker spaniel on the ranch June 3. The dog bit the skunk, but there is no evidence that the skunk returned the compliment. However, there was no record of rabies vaccination for the dog. It was vaccinated and put in quarantine on the ranch for six months, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

The following day, Murphy heard a cow bellowing as if it might have been bitten. He spotted a skunk, presumably the same one, near the cow, and killed it. The cow showed no signs of being bitten, but it, too, has been quarantined for six months, Dr. Albrecht said.

Rabies in the skunk was determined by pathologic examination of the brain.

Last year at this time, the health department had reports of two rabid skunks and a rabid bat.

Acting Workshop Slated At School

A theater workshop stressing the craft of acting will be offered by the San Rafael Recreation Department at San Rafael High School gymnasium No. 3 starting next Tuesday and closing Aug. 15.

Workshop sessions will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Patricia Herron, who served an apprenticeship at the Cleveland Play House, studied at Iowa University and directed at a Cleveland arts center, will be the director.

List Of New Positions Goes To Supervisors

A list of 36 new county positions, which should mean 49 new jobs, including four changes from part to full time, was submitted to county supervisors yesterday by Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows.

On suggestion of acting Chairman William D. Fusselman, the board approved from the list 15 appointments scheduled to be effective from July 1, plus four appointments by departmental request. Decision on the other positions was postponed for further budget discussion.

The routine departmental request appointments were of Steven Tiller as programmer trainee for the welfare department, at $508 monthly; of Henry J. Regalia as building maintenance man at $391; Denny V. Lawrence as heavy equipment operator at $508, and Sarah Yurchok as social worker at $445.

Appointments to new positions from Barrow's list were:

Sheriff: John L. Lund as deputy at $508 due to nine years with Sausalito Police Department, and John J. Santos and William R. Keaton Jr. and deputies at $486.

Data proscessing: Dorothy A. Trenam as control clerk at $391, Ardys Ward and Lillian Lupini as keypunch operators at $345, and Ernest Stokes as tab operator at $508.

Auditor-controller: Elinor Shallish as senior account clerk at $391.

Juvenile Hall: Raymond Ruiz as group counsellor at $508.

Fire department: Robert P. Tavema as fire warden at $445, Wesley A. Campigli and Paul M. Sheehan as fire wardens at $408.

Public works: George Lemos, building maintenance man at $465.

Promotions included Robert F. Thomas to fire captain at $580, and Edward Alves to deputy sheriff at $555.

Britain's average white-collar worker's weekly wages are $59.17.

Evacuation Plan Approved

An evacuation plan for the Civic Center was adopted by county supervisors yesterday with proviso that department heads are to submit their own sub-plans for safeguarding of records and other action.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost compiled the scheme after consultation with other county officials. "Steady ringing of the fire gong" is to trigger any evacuation and there is to be a preliminary drill to acquaint employees with the signal.

Elevators will be locked at the bottom floor and exit will be by staircase with a "ladies first rule." Deputy sheriffs will guard outside doors and prevent unauthorized re-entries, until permission is given from the sheriff's department.

Everybody will assemble on the west parking area. Papers won't be taken out and safes will be locked, according to the scheme.

Rocket Test Protest Goes To Board

Alleged navigational perils from rocket launcher tests in the bay near the Sisters islands were cited in a letter of protest to the county board of supervisors yesterday.

The letter, from Edward Laherty as vice commodore of the Gallinas Yacht Club, declared:

"We feel that this area is necessary to our navigation and that no restriction to it should be imposed."

The supervisors, who earlier had asked the Marin Rod and Gun Club for an expression of opinion on the proposal, held up action on Laherty's letter pending reply to that request.

Rod and Gun Club directors last night heard an explanation of the rocket engine test plan by Carroll A. Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin County Development Assn., and George W. Scott Jr. of the Sacramento office of Aerojet-General Corp., which plans the tests. They withheld action, however, pending a meeting with officials of the California Division of Fish and Game. The matter will be placed before a membership meeting of the club July 19, said Paul Ware, secretary.

The San Rafael City Council on Monday night instructed the city manager to seek details from Aerojet-General and Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) regarding the plans, which call for underwater testing of rocket launcher engines. Mayor John F. McInnis said he had authoritative information that the noise would be extreme.

Aerojet-General originally proposed the tests for a bay site near Angel Island, but changed to the Sisters site, within the city limits of San Rafael, after widespread protests.

Lorenzen, 19, Hurt In San Anselmo Crash

Craig N. Lorenzen, 19, of 39 Crane Drive, San Anselmo, suffered a forehead cut when his car struck a parked auto in front of 1423 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 10:47 p.m. yesterday, San Anselmo police reported.

Lorenzen told police that he had taken his eyes off the road after a cigarette dropped on his leg. He swerved into an unoecupied car owned by Nelson L. Hawks of San Francisco. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

WHERE YOU SAVE DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE

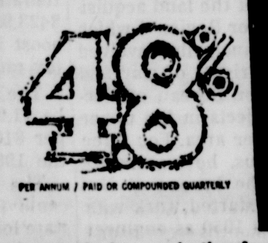

The original Savings and Loan Association was founded in Philadelphia in 1831. A small group of citizens banded together and saved. In turn their savings were loaned to fellow citizens to build and finance homes.

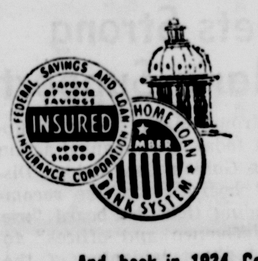

The custom spread throughout the nation. Today, the building and financing of homes is still the purpose of the Savings and Loan Associations such as Novato Savings.

Millions of Americans save their money in the nearby Savings and Loan Association. This year the Savings and Loan Associations have over $100 Billion in assets. Our assets at Novato Savings exceed $3 million.

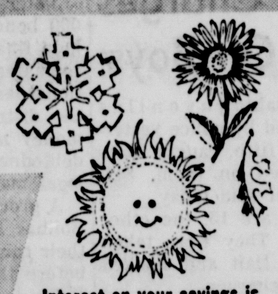

Because Novato Savings, and other Associations, invest the savings in First Deeds of Trust on homes, we are able to pay our savers more interest on their savings. The 4.8% annual interest, compounded quarterly is a full 37% more than the 3.5% interest paid by your bank. A substantial difference.

And, back in 1934, Congress established the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, a permanent agency of the U. S. Government. Accounts are now insured to $10,000 by the FSLIC. And this insurance is free to each saver and immediately applied to savings accounts.

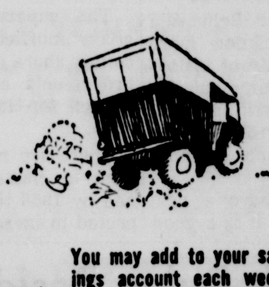

To open your savings account at Novato Savings, you bring in your money and sign the signature card and receive your savings book. Just like the bank. To withdraw money, just bring in your savings book. Just like the bank.

Interest on your savings is paid to you 4 times a year — December, March, June and September. It may be paid to you by check or added to your savings account — the choice is yours.

It is easy to transfer your savings from your bank to Novato Savings—come in or call us and we will give you the necessary forms. You may open an INDIVIDUAL, CORPORATE, TRUSTEE or othe type of account depending on your needs —and, for as little as just $1.

You may add to your savings account each week, each month or whenever you feel like it. You may even save by mail, we pay the postage both ways and furnish you with a save-by-mail kit. And if you put your savings in by the 10th of the month you'll receive interest from the 1st.

YOUNG SHARK KILLERS WITH TROPHY

Geoffrey Schlittgen, 14, (left); his brother Terry, 12, and Mark Reed, who is only 5, were a proud three yesterday: they killed this seven-foot shark. Mark, son of Mrs. John L. Reed of 2524 Mar East, Tiburon, saw the shark in Keil Cove and pointed it out to the Schlittgen brothers. They killed it with rocks and beached it—although Terry said when he first grabbed its tail it tried to swing around and bite him.

Sanitary District Expects Tax Drop

A maintenance superintendent and a tentative tax reduction of 19 cents per $100 assessed valuation were unanimously approved last night by directors of Corte Madera Sanitary District.

John Comes, senior building maintenance man for the county of Marin, was chosen the district's first maintenance superintendent from among four applicants. Directors this spring fired the district's secretary-manager, William A. Adam, and abolished his position.

Comes, a retired Navy chief warrant officer, will be in charge of all maintenance in the sewer district and will handle any complaints from residents about service.

A tentative budget of $121,250, down $13,750 from last year's budget of $135,000, was approved by the board.

"With the tax setup the way it is, we thought it would be time to use a little austerity," said Fred A. Nicholson, board president. "We've cut out all sewer replacement plans except those entirely essential."

The sewer replacement fund was set at $22,000 compared to $40,000 last year. The budget breakdown is: Salary and wages, $35,000; operation and maintenance, $53,450; capital outlay for equipment, $300; reserve, $10,000, and the replacement sum of $22,000.

The tax rate, which can't be set until assessment rates are known, is expected to drop from $1 for all costs but bond redemption to 81 cents. The bond redemption tax last year was 38 cents additional.

The board also voted unanimously to continue taxing for sewer service costs rather than instigating a monthly service charge of 35 cents throughout the district.

"We had planned a $1.25 monthly charge, but with reductions in the budget, we didn't need that much. Collecting 35 cents a month wouldn't have been worth the trouble," Nicholson explained.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the district office on Tamalpais Avenue to give final approval to the tentative budget.

Comes, who will take over his new post July 22, lives with his wife at 25 Washington Street, Novato. For two years he has maintained the sewage treatment plant in San Rafael Meadows. He has also had experience in repair of electrical equipment. He did personnel work in the Navy.

Seashore Land Officer Starts

Thomas Kornelis assumed duties today in charge of the land acquisition program for the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Fred W. Binnewies, new project manager, said offers have been made for three areas and that announcement of results should be made by the middle of this month.

Kornelis has had considerable experience in land acquisition. He has been transferred to seashore headquarters near Olema, from the federal Bureau of Reclamation office in Salt Lake City.

He had been stationed in Salt Lake City since 1956, serving as chief of the land acquisition branch for Region 4 which has been principally involved in acquiring rights of way and other land for Bureau of Reclamation projects in the upper Colorado River area. For three years previous, he was realty officer for the bureau at Huron, S.D. He started work with the bureau in 1950 as engineer for Region 6 with headquarters at Billings, Mont., where he was involved in land acquisition for various Missouri Basin projects.

Kornelis will be joined by his wife and three children, two boys and a girl, as soon as he finds a home for them. Binnewies said today he has just acquired a home at Novato.

Fairfax Faces 6-Cent Rise In School Tax

The Fairfax School District Board last night approved a tentative 1963-64 budget of $423,935 calling for a six-cent boost in the general operating tax rate.

The operating tax rate will be $1.99 as compared to $1.93 per $100 assessed valuation in the 1962-63 budget.

The district also levied 49 cents for override taxes and state loan and 23 cents for bond retirement, making a total tax rate last year of $2.65.

Supt. Homer Sisk said the district is trying to "stay within the $2.05 limit" on the operating budget. The tentative budget is up $24,260 from last year.

District trustees are considering calling another bond election in October or November to finance the district's building program, Sisk said.

Voters turned down a $175,000 bond issue on June 11 to help finance seven more classrooms and acquisition of additional land. The state will lend the district the rest of the money needed if bonded indebtedness is brought to the legal maximum.

A group of parents from the Bolinas Road area continued their campaign for bus service before the board last night.

Trustees suggested the parents form a citizen committee to study the transportation problems of the entire district and report at the July 16 meeting.

The parents suggested that the district consider contracting for smaller buses that could better navigate the narrow, winding stretch of Bolinas Road.

About 14 parents sought to have the bus service extended for Fawn Ridge to the Meadow Club to serve approximately 25 pupils, Sisk said.

If the request is granted, the district would have to delete stops in other areas, he said.

At the board's annual reorganizational meeting, Laurence G. Hermann was elected president, succeeding Mrs. Fay Jensen, and Robert Lauppe was elected clerk, succeeding Harland Hennessy. Mrs. Jensen was named trustee representative on the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

Home Owners Block Street With Autos

Meadowsweet home owners, who have long protested the proposed the Souther-Land-Lang apartment development near Corte Madera, decided yesterday that things had gone too far.

Contractor Robert W. Pollock, also a resident of the area, began construction last week of four apartment buildings and moved heavy equipment over Meadowsweet Drive to get to the construction site.

Housewives protested the traffic and after calls to the district attorney and planning department, decided to take direct action.

They blocked the road, which is privately maintained, with their cars. Late yesterday, after investigation by county officials, building inspector Hans Berge issued a stop-work order on construction.

Pollock will not be allowed to continue work until he settles an easement dispute with adjacent property owner Lyle Lang so that he may build his own access road.

"The people in the neighborhood have objected to apartments anyway," said Ross Talley of the county planning department, "and when they saw their street being torn up with equipment it was just too much."

HOLIDAY

bells at that time in a "let freedom ring" demonstration.

Perhaps the biggest attraction in Marin will be the Marin Art and Garden Fair which opens in Ross at 6 p.m. today. It will run until 10 o'clock tonight and from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. tomorrow through Sunday.

The Woodacre Improvement Club will be the site of a day-long celebration, beginning with a pancake and sausage breakfast at 8 a.m. A challenge baseball game between the Lagunitas Landers and the Fairfax Lumberjacks, starting at 9 a.m., will bring out Little League sluggers.

Games and refreshment booths will open at 11 a.m.; a skin diving exhibition will be at 12:30 p.m. and a softball match will be at 2 p.m. At 5 p.m. there will be a chicken barbecue and at 9 p.m. there will be a fireworks display.

The Novato Lions Club's annual bean feed will begin at noon at the Stafford Dam picnic grounds. The program includes pony rides and a softball game.

The 11th annual Corte Madera Fireworks Show will start at 8 p.m. at Neil Cummins Schoolgrounds.

The Bolinas Fourth of July Parade will be held at 2 p.m.

A variety of Fourth of July events from diving for pennies to dancing in the park will be featured at the Terra Linda Community Center in a program sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation-Park District. Activities will start at 11 a.m. at the pool with games for children.

At 1 p.m. there will be a variety show with songs and folk dancing will be held at the outdoor theater at Del Ganado Park. Movies for children will be shown at 3 p.m. in the community center building. Dancing to music by the Ebb Tides will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the park.

The Marinwood volunteer firemen will sponsor a breakfast from 8:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Lee Bros. Market in Marinwood. At 3 p.m. there will be a children's bicycle parade and free watermelon for the children at the market.

The traditional foot races on the main street of Inverness will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow with competition for all ages. The program will conclude with a grandfather race to Drake's Arms for free beer.

FATAL

'Good Samaritan' Robs Man After Offering Ride

A "good samaritan" gave him a ride from Petaluma, then turned on him and robbed him instead, Otto Leezes, 85, of San Francisco complained to a Marin County deputy sheriff last night.

Deputy Sheriff James B. Kane spotted Leezes sitting forlornly on a concrete wall at the Buckeye Restaurant parking lot near Richardson Bay Bridge about 6 p.m. Leezes was bleeding from a wound near the left eye.

The man at first told the deputy he had fallen down and hurt himself. Then he said he had hitched a ride in Petaluma on a late model brown sedan. He and the driver drank some beer, which the man had in his car. The driver turned off at the Buckeye and hit him over the head with a sap, said Leezes. When he awoke, his wallet and $32 were gone.

Leezes, who lives in a hotel on Sixth Street in San Francisco, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Egg Yolk Baron Trial Scheduled For Aug. 23

Andrew von Salza, the "egg yolk baron," will stand trial Aug. 23 on charges of bilking two women who claim his rejuvenation treatments did not help them in the least.

Von Salza, with attorney Carl B. Shapiro of Fairfax, appeared in Judge Norman Elkington's court in San Francisco today to hear the trial date set. Von Salza at one time talked of establishing a rejuvenation hospital in Marin County.

Fireworks Illegal

Although fireworks are being sold legally across the county line in Sonoma County, they are not legal in Marin County, Lt. Richard Beyer of the Novato Fire Department warned Novatans today.

OBITUARIES

Caroline Bostick Dies At 81

Mrs. Caroline H. Bostick of Oakland, a life-long resident of California and mother of Dr. Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael and J. Benton Bostick of Tiburon, died in a local rest home yesterday. She was 81.

Mrs. Bostick, a native of San Diego, was the widow of Cmdr. John B. Bostick, a Navy physician. He died June 6, 1956.

Mrs. Bostick had been ill about a month.

Dr. Bostick, a pathologist, is past president of the California Medical Assn. J. Benton Bostick is a retired stationer.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Hoover of Fort Collins, Colo., and Mrs. Beverly Dean of Guam; a brother, Fred L. Bentzel of San Diego, and 11 grandchildren.

Mrs. Bostick was past regent of the Oakland chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, past president of the California chapter of the Daughters and Founders of the Patriots of America, a member of the Mayflower Society of San Francisco, and a member of the First Presbyterian Church of San Diego.

Funeral services will be held at Truman's Chapel in Oakland at 4 p.m. Friday. A memorial service will be held early next week at the Bonham Mortuary in San Diego. Private burial will be in Mount Hope Cemetery in San Diego.

BERTHA DUSTMAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Bertha Dustman, 79, of 2090 Novato Boulevard, who died in her sleep early yesterday, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mrs. Dustman was born in Coulton, S.D., Dec. 29, 1883. She lived most of her life in that state. She moved to California in 1940, and came to Novato in 1955 to make her home with her son, Donald, and his wife.

She is survived by five sons, Donald and Hiram of Novato, Robert and Harley of South Dakota, and Eugene of Alaska; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Davenport of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Hazel Neighbor of Wyoming; three brothers, Owen, Roland and Ralph Larsen of South Dakota; two sisters, Mrs. Laura Kimbel and Beatrice Larsen of South Dakota; 20 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Marin Memorial Gardens.

N. RAMACCIOTTI

Requiem Mass for Narcisco Ramacciotti, 79, father of Mrs. Mary Regalia of San Rafael, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Vincent's Catholic Church in Petaluma.

Ramacciotti, a retired Northwestern Pacific Railroad maintenance man, died in a San Francisco hospital Monday night. He was born in Italy and had resided in Petaluma 53 years. He retired in 1952.

Surviving are his wife, Fidelma, of Petaluma; his daughter; two sons, Elio Ramacciotti of Sonoma and Henry Ramacciotti of Petaluma, and seven grandchildren.

The funeral cortege will form Saturday at 9:15 a.m. at Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma. Inurnment will be in Calvary Mausoleum, Petaluma.

Hollis Proposes Model Deaf School In Marin

A school for deaf and hard of hearing children which would be a "model facility for the entire state" was proposed yesterday to Marin County supervisors.

County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis presented a rough outline of cost estimates for the new school, totaling about $240,000. Supervisors last month tentatively approved funds toward the school construction during the next two years.

Final approval was postponed yesterday so that Hollis and his staff might give the board more details on alternatives to the plans for construction.

Supervisor Peter Behr said he would like to know more about the possibility of installing classroom equipment for deaf children in existing buildings, such as church schools, while the new school is being built.

"It is fine to have a new school and I think it is a good program," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss, "but I agree with Mr. Behr that it needs more exploration. We don't just want a model. We already have models in Marin, and they are sometimes subject to criticism."

Chairman William D. Fusselman told Hollis, "We gave you the green light," and said he favored a complete program as soon as possible. "You can't fool around with make-shift places," he said.

Location of the school would be determined later, Hollis said. Under the proposal, construction costs would be shared by the state.

The supervisors have also given unofficial approval to a county share of $65,000 for improvements at the Marindale School for handicapped children.

There are now 23 deaf children in classes at Marindale, and by 1968 the number is expected to increase to 53.

Span Work Gets Strong Marin Support

Strong Marin County support today accompanied action by a Golden Gate Bridge District board committee recommending that the board "use all influence and offices" to bring about widening of the San Francisco approach to the bridge as soon as possible.

The action, moved by Director Joseph J. Diviny with additions by Chairman Dan E. London, both of San Francisco, included recommendations that a subcommittee be named to appear before the next meeting of the State Highway Commission, and that attention of county boards of supervisors be called to the urgency of the need.

Supervisor Peter Behr appeared to report yesterday's action by Marin supervisors endorsing the approach widening.

Leo Souza of Tiburon, transportation chairman for the Tiburon Coordinating Council, appealed for "a long-range view" including approach widening.

Director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato made a quick but telling point by calling on Clifford Geertz, San Francisco city engineer, to refute a recent statement by State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack that the bridge approach wasn't important because San Francisco's city street network would be swamped by any more bridge traffic.

Not so, said Geertz, suporting Hardcastle in the point that Marin County highways, the bridge itself and city streets all can handle more than the approach bottleneck.

"The approach obviously is not equal to the capacity of the bridge or Marin highways," said Behr in hammering the same point.

C. F. Greene, Division of Highways planning engineer, explained the division's so-called "ultimatum" threatening to drop from the budget the proposed link between bridge and Embarcadero Freeway if San Francisco supervisors don't quickly permit its construction.

He said that unless this link can be included in the interstate system, which requires prompt decision, federal funds will be lost whereupon it will have to go into the general hopper of state projects—with not enough money to go around.

Theft Charges Filed On Boys

Four Sausalito juveniles were arrested by police yesterday after a fifth, caught Monday, informed on them, Sgt. David Cooper said today.

Two boys are 15, the other two are 16. They were taken to Juvenile Hall and booked on burglary charges.

The four boys admitted entering Golden Gate Market on two occasions a few months ago, Cooper reported, taking two cases of beer one time and one case on another occasion. Entry was made through the garage.

They also admitted entering a residence at 112 West Street on Dec. 22, 1962 and again Jan. 4, 1963, taking a cigarette lighter and $20 on one visit and some small change on the other.

The 14-year-old Sausalito boy booked Monday, after being traced through a stolen jade ring he had given a friend, has admitted his part in three of the burglaries in which the four boys were involved, Cooper said.

Woman Hurt In Wreck On Drake

Helen Elizabeth White, 65, of 1 North Road, Ross, was treated at Marin General Hospital at 6:30 p.m. yesterday for a cut face and sprained right ankle after a car she was driving smashed into the rear of another auto on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard 200 feet west of Bon Air Road.

The second car was driven by Robert Edwin Kule, 49, 83 Oak Spring Drive, San Anselmo, the California Highway Patrol reported. A third car, hit by Kyle's was driven by Ronald Benning McKee, 31, of 95 West Wood Drive, Kentfield.

Burglars Enter Office Of Novato McPhails

The office of McPhails Inc. on Highway 101 north of Highway 37 was entered and ransacked last night, according to Novato police.

A soft drink machine was broken into and $2 in change was taken. The gasoline pump was turned on and 16 gallons of gasoline taken, police said. Entry was gained by forcing a side window.

Wolfback Ridge Residents 'Don't Want Civilization'

Secession of rugged Wolfback Ridge from the city of Sausalito was suggested jokingly early today to a resident, who immediately responded, "We'd love to."

"We don't want civilization pushed on us, no little fences, nor any Terra Linda," George R. Jackson, secretary of the Wolfback Ridge Assn. told the Sausalito City Council. "We're here to inform the council of this right now."

To prove their tenacity, four members of the association had waited in crowded council chambers from 8 p.m. yesterday to 1:12 a.m. today.

They requested the city council to observe residents' desires regarding roads, which they would have left in their bucolic state.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said the roads are bad, access consists of a series of easements, there are no zoning restrictions, and there is a private water system.

"Maybe you want to secede?" suggested Councilman Jan Paul Dyk.

"We'd love to," immediately snapped back Mrs. Kent Diehl, who lives on Wolfback Ridge but has no street number.

The council continued the subject to next Tuesday.

In the council's hands was a letter stating the "rural nature of the area is being preserved and the advance of 'civilization' in the form of boulevards, sidewalks, street lights is being strongly and effectively resisted."

Fairfax Police Arrest Man On Ticket Signing

Richard Jerry Argento, 42, former inspector in the sheriff's office, was jailed in Fairfax today for refusing to sign a traffic citation.

Argento, who lives at 111 Suffield Avenue, San Anselmo, was booked by Fairfax police at 2:20 a.m. Freed on $29 bail, he is scheduled to appear in traffic court next Monday.

Meeting Canceled

The Glenwood Home Owners Assn. canceled a scheduled meeting last night because of a lack of a quorum, Mrs. Virginia Powell, secretary, reported today.

Park Meet Canceled

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission canceled last night's regular meeting for lack of a quorum, Thomas C. Peck, commission chairman, reported today. The commission is scheduled to meet Aug. 6.

The lowest point of the earth's surface is located at the bottom of the Dead Sea, about 15 miles east of Jerusalem. At that point, it is 1,292 feet below sea level.

Developer's Road Name Ires Residents

A suggestion that a portion of Cushing Drive in Mill Valley be changed to Charles-Dean Road created a brief flare-up at the Mill Valley City Council meeting last night.

Dr. J. Alfred Rider wants to put in about a dozen one-acre homesites at the end of Cushing Drive. He suggested the upper portion of the street, beyond a hairpin turn, be renamed Charles-Dean Road for his sons Charles and Dean.

John Larrecq of 32 Cushing and Dr. Ernest Jawetz of 19 Cushing protested bitterly.

Larrecq, a commercial artist, said he operates a studio from his home and has stationery with his address on it. He and his neighbors do not want to change their address.

"How much stationery is involved?" asked Councilman George D. Monardo.

"I think that's a silly question if you ask me," said Larrecq. "The question is, why does Dr. Rider want to change the name? We're happy as it is!"

Dr. Jawetz protested that residents who have been there for years do not relish having the address suddenly changed just because a new developer asks for a name change. "I consider this extraordinarly insulting."

"I have never proposed eliminating the name of Cushing," explained Dr. Rider. "I'm willing to start the road at my property and put up a private road sign."

At suggestion of Councilman Michael Wornum, the council decided that Cushing Drive be retained up to the Larrecq property, and Dr. Rider can re-name the road on his property. The two property owners will try to agree just where on the road the line of demarcation would go.

Dr. Rider also asked that a lane off Greenwood Avenue be named Rider Lane. This the city councilmen approved because there was no objection.

Salary Hikes Go To Some Workers In Mill Valley

Mill Valley City Council last night approved salary raises for city employees which will mean an added cost of $10,992 per year.

The salary adjustments were worked out by a committee headed by Councilman George D. Monardo, which met with representatives of the Mill Valley City Employees Assn.

The maximum pay for each job goes up as follows:

Police department clerk dispatcher from $376 to $395; patrolman from $543 to $584; sergeant from $598 to $628; lieutenant from $628 to $644.

Fireman from $543 to $584; captain from $598 to $628; assistant chief from $660 to $676.

Public works foreman from $543 to $556; parks groundman from $458 to $469; and deputy city clerk from $436 to $447.

Committee Drops Words In Name

It's now the Marin Committee for Fair Play.

The former Marin Committee for Fair Play in Housing has dropped the last two words of that name in accord with widening of its efforts to include fair play in employment and education, steering committee chairman Mac Hull announced today.

The committee has established its office at 2144 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Civic Center aesthetics are being outraged by close parking of blue, yellow and orange buses and trucks in a way never contemplated by the late architect Frank Lloyd Wright, according to a letter to supervisors yesterday.

Dr. Robert W. Clarke of San Francisco wrote that he had great trouble in photographing the structure because of unsightly vehicles. He cited two blue library buses, three yellow county school buses and a fleet of orange trucks as among the offenders. Clarke suggested that visitors from all of the United States would appreciate parking of county equipment in a less conspicous location.

"I am sure," said Clarke, "Mr. Frank Lloyd Wright never planned to have various types of blue, yellow and orange vehicles parked in view of our beautiful Civic Center building.

"I think he has something," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

"Driving down from Sebastopol," contributed acting Chairman William D. Fusselman, "I felt such things detracted from the beauty of the building."

"Is this a monument or a government building?" demanded Supervisor George Ludy. "This building is for county business."

On motion of Supervisor Peter Behr, the subject was referred to Public Works Director Donald R. Frost on the theory that "if he can do something to help, why not?"

The supervisors also:

1. Asked Frost to present a report July 9 refuting budget criticism, notably about roads, of the Marin Council Mayors.
2. Granted Marin Municipal Water District an easement from the south side of Civic Center Drive to the top of the nearby knoll to lay pipes.
3. Confirmed planning commission authorization for American Telephone and Telephone Co. to erect eight steel towers adjacent to but not within the Point Reyes National Seashore area.
4. Approved renewal, indefinitely rather than annually as hitherto, of contract for selective use of state-provided personnel examination material.
5. Contracted with Reichhold and Jurkovich for up to 7,000 yards of fill for access road to the Novato County Airport at bargain rate of 40 cents a yard, made possible because the firm will provide fill excavated under state contract.
6. Consented to formation of an assessment district in San Rafael Meadows, to lead to annexation by Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.
7. Authorized construction of access road to Marin Products Co. warehouse in the Kaplan Tract, Ignacio.
8. Upheld planning commission denial of addition of four units to 16 projected by Bert J. Sirvain at 936 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.
9. Proclaimed July 12 "Festival Theater Day" and July "Festival Theater Month."
10. Ordered investigation by welfare and probation departments of the adequacy of the present $107 monthly foster home allowance for care of a boy of 14.
11. Postponed decision to July 9 on acquisition of Old St. Hilary's Church and adjacent property on Tiburon Peninsula.
12. Authorized payment from June 1 on "community recreation" building, including senior citizen use, the former California Automobile Assn. premises on San Rafael's Fifth Avenue.
13. Adjourned to 9 a.m. Friday when first equalization appeals will be taken up.

Marichal 'Called' Winning Shot In 16-Inning Duel

"I said to myself three times, 'This will be my last inning,'" weary Juan Marichal said quietly.

"Each time I went out there again.

"When Willie Mays was in the circle waiting to bat, I called to him 'Hit one now.' Everyone laughed at me, but Willie did it."

It was the 16th inning in Candlestick Park where Marichal and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn had dueled 4 hours and 10 minutes of scoreless baseball.

Spahn threw a screwball, the pitch that got him out of trouble so many times. Mays belted a home run over the left field fence, deciding the issue 1-0 for the Giants.

Exactly 30 years after Carl Hubbell on July 2, 1933, had blanked St. Louis 1-0 in 18 innings, Marichal had his 13th victory of the season in a game with almost as many shutout innings.

"That was the greatest game I've ever seen by two pitchers," Giants Manager Alvin Dark said.

Marichal threw 227 pitches, the 42-year-old Spahn 201. Both admitted being a little tired, but both were going all out all the way.

Mays and the Candlestick wind both could be credited with assists in the pitching shutout. In the fourth inning, the Braves' Hank Aaron powered a drive to left field, ticketed for his 23rd homer of the year, but the wind held it back. By midnight, however, the wind had virtually died.

"The wind helped me against right-handers, but you have to be so very careful with the left-handers when the wind is blowing here," the 25-year-old Marichal said.

"I was throwing a lot of fast balls and changes out there."

On June 14, the right-hander from the Dominican Republic, who originally signed into the organization for just $500, became the first Giant to throw a no-hitter since Hubbell did in 1929. Juan blanked Houston 1-0 that day.

Winning the marathon left the Giants just one game behind the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Spahn, who beat Los Angeles 1-0 last Friday and had a string of 27 scoreless innings, said:

"I threw Mays a screwball that hung. It didn't do a thing. The thing that makes me mad is that I had thrown some good screwballs to Harvey Kuenn just before Willie came to bat. Then that first pitch to him hung."

Mays' first hit in the major leagues back in 1951 was a home run off Spahn.

Spahn, now 11-4, hooked up in a masterful duel with Marichal—and it appeared a shame that either man had to lose. Only once was either man in serious trouble before Mays ended the battle.

In the fourth inning, with two away, Marichal ran into trouble when he walked Norm Larker and Mack Jones singled him to second. Del Crandall then came up and singled softly to center.

Larker was off with the crack of the bat, Mays scooped up the ball and threw a bullet strike to home plate to easily catch the runner.

Marichal struck out 10, walked four and gave up eight hits over the 16 innings. Spahn was touched for nine hits, struck out two and walked one.

Spahn's most serious moment before tangling with Mays' home run came in the 14th when his defense fell apart. Kuenn led off with a pop to left center that three men let drop between them for a double. Mays was walked. Then the master craftsman got Willie McCovey on a pop-up to the catcher, Felipe Alou on a fly to center and appeared to be out of trouble.

But third baseman Dennis Menke bobbled Orlando Cepeda's grounder and the bases were full. But Spahnie went to work on Ed Bailey and the catcher flied out softly to center.

Marichal appeared to get stronger as the game progressed. At one time, with two out in the 13th inning, he had retired 16 men in a row. They got only two hits after that.

The Giants thought the game should have ended in the ninth inning when Willie McCovey walloped the ball over the right field fence. But Umpire Chris Pelekoudas ruled it foul. McCovey raced down to first base protesting and so did Coach Larry Jansen, who declared after the game, "I thought it was four feet fair."

Spahn had pitched a 16-inning game before—losing to the Dodgers 2-1 in 1951. Marichal worked 17 innings in 1959 while at Springfield in the Eastern League, losing 1-0.

Jack Sanford (9-7) was slated to pitch for San Francisco today against Denny Lemaster (4-4).

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

It Is A-OK Now; Willie Mays Can Unpack His Bags And Stay Awhile

CONNOLLY

UNPACK—that was the order given early today to S.F. Giant outfielder Willie Mays. His planned vacation ended, his hitting slump broke and his entire itinerary fell apart in the 16th inning when he homered over the left-field enclosure to end a stirring pitching duel between Juan Marichal of the Giants and southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee. The line drive swat gave the "badly bent but not exactly broken" Giants a 1-0 triumph, to set up a modern day record for runless innings.

The home run of Mays made it strictly a "Willie Mays night" and lifted the contest out of the routine type of game. The hippity-hip flychaser, even in his batting slump, has never once slackened defensively. Last night he rose to the heights in the fourth inning when he snuffed out the only chance Milwaukee had to score by throwing a strike from centerfield to home plate that nipped Norm Larker who had tried to score on a single by Del Crandall. Only a perfect throw could have turned the trick, and like of old, Mays arose to the occasion and cut loose a perfect bouncing throw that retired the side and caused the game to be prolonged 16 frames.

UNTIL THE 16th inning, Marichal and the great Spahn mowed down the hitters, inning after inning until 12:25 a.m. when Willie hit the drive that sent a withering crowd home, happy, but almost frozen by the wind.

In a group, reminiscent of World Series times, the entire S.F. Giant bench raced to swarm over Willie at the plate.

It was shortly after this spectacular game shattering circuit smash that Willie and the "Bullpen" went into a huddle and called off all vacation plans that were suggested to restore his hitting confidence and put him back in the hearts of fans as the Giant sweetheart.

"WILLIE HAS decided to take a vacation from baseball, after October 15th," the Bullpen announced to the pressbox.

Chub Feeney, the Giants vice president, owner Horace Stoneham, and Alvin Dark, manager, never did favor the vacation, but were good sports, and accepted the Bullpen's decision and Mays, in stride.

But the triumph of Mays over his hitting slump was convincing proof that "Willie Mays must hit if the S.F. club is to win."

"I feel disappointed but very happy," said Mays, as he double talked to the Bullpen after the game.

SOMBER BUT joyful Manager Al Dark expressed keen delight in the change in the vacation plans of Mays.

"I never knew about it," pleaded Dark, "until Willie hit the home run. In fact, he never mentioned it to me in his extra batting practice talk just before the game. But we really need Willie badly and now that he has decided to comeback to the hitting wars, I think I can find a regular spot for him in the lineup.

"In fact," continued Dark, "I've just promised Willie that I'll move him up and down in the lineup to vary his change of pace as well as the scenery."

"Last night Willie batted in the second spot but it doesn't mean I'm going to keep him there. I may let him bat third, fourth or any other spot in the lineup," wound up a happy, though tired Dark, in the early hours of today.

TO JUAN Marichal, pitching his longest and certainly one of his finest games of his career, the victory was two-fold.

"I not only win my 13th game," Juan said, "but I beat the best leftie in the business."

And that he did.

And what a different picture Spahn presented in contrast to Marichal. The 42-year-old veteran, in a fit of anger, disappeared from the dugout, muttering, like a kid pitcher after losing a decision. It showed that after all these years, Spannie is still a rookie at heart.

WILLIE McCOVEY tried to end the game in the ninth inning when he hit a tape measure job over the rightfield fence that Umpire Chris Pelekoudas ruled foul but which 80 per cent of the fans said was fair.

"The abuse Pelekoudas took after his decision, bore stark truth to the fact that he might have thought he made a bad decision," one of the Giant players said.

But now that the longest game is past history, we'll watch with baited breath the progress of Willie Mays as he starts anew today to unfold his future hitting plans for 1963.

AS CARDS FALL . . .

L.A. Dodgers Deal Ace 1-0

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Drysdale, a pitcher with an amazing record for the month of July, had Los Angeles back on top of the National League heap as the Dodgers return to action tonight against the erstwhile pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals.

Big Don's July jinx on opponents, plus an uncommon St. Louis faculty of losing ball games by one run, led to a 1-0 victory and a lead of one-half game over the Cards before 39,824 last night.

The Cards have dropped three straight games, all by one run.

Snapped, too, was St. Louis' string of seven straight wins over the Dodgers in Dodger Stadium, starting with their final four straight triumps here last September.

The Dodgers didn't exactly roar into first place with their 1-0 smash but Drysdale's five-hitter was artistic enough to contain the Redbirds.

But the Drysdale July hex worked. He now has a lifetime record of 28-4 for the month and in the last four seasons his record is 23-1.

The lone loss was to St. Louis, July 21, 1961, and the winning pitcher was Curt Simmons last night's loser.

The fifth-place Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 4-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2, and San Francisco nipped the Milwaukee Braves 1-0 in 16 innings.

The American League leading New York Yankees blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on Al Downing's one-hitter, Minnesota took over second by defeating Detroit 7-4, Boston belted Cleveland 6-1, Baltimore nipped the Los Angeles Angels 4-3 and Washington took Kansas City 7-2.

Ron Fairly got Drysdale, 10-9, the run he needed in the seventh after Frank Howard singled and reached second on Bill Skowron's infield out. That left Simmons' record at 7-4. Drysdale ran into difficulty into the ninth when George Altman led off with a single and stole second, but worked out of the jam by getting three of the league's top 10 hitters—Dick Groat, Bill White and Ken Boyer—in order to end it.

Trailing 3-2, the Reds scored the tying run in the seventh inning against the Colts on a run-producing double by Vada Pinson, who has hit in 20 straight games. Coleman then came through with his key single, winning it for Bob Purkey, 3-4. Don McMahon, 0-3, was the loser.

The Cubs exploited a throwing error by Mets pitcher Al Jackson, 6-8, scored three unearned runs in the second inning and held on behind the six-hit hurling of Bob Buhl

DARK PICKS McCOVEY ON ALL-STAR TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lanky Willie McCovey, San Francisco Giants' left fielder, will play on the National League team in the All-Star game at Cleveland, Giants Manager Alvin Dark disclosed yesterday.

Dark, who will manage the National League squad, let the news slip at the Giants' Booster Club luncheon.

McCovey makes at least three Giants on the roster—with at least one pitcher (Juan Marichal) likely to be chosen. Already picked are Willie Mays and Ed Bailey.

Asked why he picked McCovey, Dark grinned and said:

"I want to win."

Vaulting King Badly Hurt

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Brian Sternberg, who has vaulted higher than any other athlete in the world, lay partially paralyzed in a hospital today following an accident incurred while he worked out on a trampoline.

Sternberg, whose 16-foot-8 inch vault is pending as a world record, was hurt last evening as he practiced with the University of Washington gymnastics team. He was rated as one of the country's top trampoline performers.

Doctors said X-rays indicated a dislocation of the cervicle vertebra and possible damage to the spinal cord. They described the injury as critical, but after several hours of consultation ruled out immediate surgery.

Doctors would not say Sternberg's neck was broken, but did not discount the possibility of a fracture in the intricate series of bones involved. He was placed in traction.

PENDING MARK

A modest, personable blond, Sternberg set the pending world record at the Compton Invitational Meet June 7. He first conquered the 16-foot barrier at Milwaukee last March when he soared 16-3½. He cleared 16-5 in April and 16-7 two weeks before his record mark. Only a sophomore this past season, Sternberg never was defeated.

Bob Hall, another Washington gymnastics star, said Sternberg was doing a double back somersault with a full twist when he lost momentum and fell, partly on his neck and partly on his shoulder.

Sternberg knew he was seriously hurt, Hall said, and told Hall not to move him. The entire trampoline was taken to the University hospital. Sternberg was conscious throughout.

The Washington star was to have competed for the United States in the Soviet Union later this month.

Talking about the trip last week, Sternberg discussed foam rubber landing pits and said, "You don't have to worry about landing on the back of your neck."

The Seattle star, who just turned 20, rarely practiced pole vaulting, but kept in shape working out on the trampoline.

McKinley Gains Wimbledon Final

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Bouncy Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., aiming to become the first native American in eight years to win the Wimbledon men's singles championship, reached the final round of the tournament today by beating Germany's Willy Bungert, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6.

McKinley's opponent in Friday's final will be the winner of today's other semi-final match between Manuel Santana of Spain and Fred Stolle of Australia.

Not since Tony Trabert won this coveted tennis prize in 1955 has a native American ruled at Wimbledon. Alex Olmedo, a U.S. Davis Cupper, won in 1959 but he was a Peruvian. McKinley himself reached the final in 1961 but was defeated by Australia's Rod Laver.

A $100,000 professional offer awaits the 22-year-old McKinley should he win the Wimbledon crown.

Bungert, a 24-year-old student architect, was the first German since 1939 to advance as far as the Wimbledon semi-finals.

McKinley, 22-year-old mathematics student at Trinity (Tex.) University, eliminated Bungert with surprising ease. Unseeded Bungert had created a stir here by first eliminating eighth-seeded Mike Sangster of England and on Monday he bounced top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia out of the tournament.

Trans-Pacific Race Will Be Broadcast

KCBS Radio will broadcast day-by-day coverage of the Trans-Pacific Yacht Race (Los Angeles to Honolulu) beginning tomorrow and continuing through July 18. Broadcasts for this 2,225-mile classic, the longest regularly-scheduled yacht race in the world, will originate from the plotting center of the race headquarters in Santa Monica.

Broadcast times will be as follows: Monday through Friday, 6:35-6:40 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, 5:55-6 p.m.

Never On Sunday or on the 4th of July Either

We will not be open Sundays or on our National Holidays. You good people of Marin have responded in such a gratifying manner to our locally owned merchandising policy that our sales in a normal, non-frantic, six-day week basis have consistently exceeded all sales records we established during the period when we remained open seven days a week.

For example, last month, June, we sold 360 cars and trucks, the best single sales record in our history. We are proud of our record, grateful to our fine, loyal customers, and humble in the knowledge of our acceptance in the community.

Let some other dealers open on Sundays if they feel they must to produce sales and profit. Our employees are grateful for our more reasonable work week, and the knowledgeable people of Marin are aware they can always buy for less from us on any day or evening.

THAT'S BIG SERVICE FROM LITTLE LEAGUE

When customers stopped at the Flying A service station at the Tiburon Wye last Saturday they found they were getting quite a bit of service from Tiburon Peninsula Little Leaguers, and the kids' mothers and fathers. Jim Green, 10, of the Tiburon Seals, puts water in the radiator of a car driven by Frank Sutliffe while Mrs. William Roby washes the windshield. Putting in gasoline is Edward Cannon. Proceeds of the day were donated to the Tiburon league by station owner Robert Smith.

ALL-STAR ROW

Houk Fires Back At Dick Stuart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Houk, never one to dodge a fight, fired right back at Dick Stuart today in the first rhubarb of the 1963 All-Star Game.

Stuart, putting in his first season in the American League with the Boston Red Sox and leading the circuit's first basemen in homers and runs batted in, finished second to Joe Pepitone of the Yankees in the balloting by the players but was passed over by Houk.

"It's tough to have a third-string catcher like Ralph Houk keep you off the All-Star team," Stuart said, according to the Boston Record American. "What would he know about how important it is to be on an All-Star team? He never made one in his life. All he ever did was sit in the dugout."

The Yankee manager, who will handle the American League All-Star team in Cleveland on July 9, was calm when he learned of Stuart's remarks, but suddenly snapped:

IMPORTANT GAME

"In the last game of the recent Red Sox series here—it was an important game—and his own manager (Johnny Pesky) used a fellow by the name of (Dick) Williams at first base."

Houk was upset over Stuart's criticism but tried his best to conceal his feelings.

"I don't blame him for being mad," the Yankee manager said at first. "I'm sorry he feels that way about it but a manager can't always stick to the second choice in the balloting.

"I left off some other pretty good players like Whitey Ford, Bill Monbouquette and Roger Maris and I think Stuart is a good player."

SECOND FIDDLE

Then, after remaining silent a few seconds, Houk got in his dig about Stuart playing second fiddle to Williams during the Yankees' recent series with the Red Sox.

Houk followed the balloting of the players in every case except first base where he chose Norm Siebern of Kansas City instead of Stuart.

"I didn't do it arbitrarily," Houk explained. "The rules say at least one player must be picked from each club. No Kansas City player was chosen so I picked Siebern. We needed another left-handed hitter anyway."

The reason he passed over Monbouquette and his own Ford was that he "didn't think it was fair" to select two pitchers from the same club and he had selected Dick Radatz of the Red Sox and Jim Bouton of the Yankees already.

2 Near No-Hitters In American League

By U.P. International

Al Downing and Dave Morehead can console each other today over coming so near, yet so far in their bids for no-hitters.

Downing, the 22-year-old New York Yankees' southpaw, held the Chicago White Sox hitless for 6⅔ innings last night but had to settle for a one-hit 3-0 victory.

And Morehead, a 19-year-old rookie right-hander for the Boston Red Sox, had a no-hitter going until the eighth against the Cleveland Indians only to wind up with a two-hit 6-1 triumph.

"I would have liked to pitch a no-hitter," said Downing, "but I'm not complaining a bit. Winning the game was more important."

Morehead was equally philosophical.

"I did my best," he said, "and I'll take a two-hitter any day of the week."

Downing's victory was his third and the Yankees' fifth in a row, stretching their American League lead to three games. The Yankee left-hander, who had held the Red Sox hitless for 6⅓ innings in his previous start last Friday night, had visions of a "no-no"—as the ballplayers call it—last night until Camilo Carreon rapped a sharp single off his glove with two out in the seventh.

There wasn't the least bit of doubt about Carreon's hit, which skipped over second base and rolled into center field. But that was the only one of 134 pitches by Downing which was hit safely.

He struck out 10 batters, walked six and got the only run he needed when Tony Kubek singled home Homer Lopez in the third inning. Lopez then hit a two-run homer in the fifth. The Yankees' run in the third was their first off loser Ray Herbert (8-5) in 20 consecutive innings.

Morehead, whose record now is 5-5, pitched perfect ball until he walked Willie Kirkland with two out in the seventh. He lost his no-hitter when Fred Whitfield led off the eighth with a grounder that took a freak bounce over second baseman Chuck Schilling's head for a single.

There was nothing freakish, however, about John Romano's pinch homer in the ninth. Romano had been restored to the active list just before the game. The Red Sox scored two runs off loser Barry Latman (5-4) in the second inning and Lou Clinton's homer featured a four-run outburst in the sixth.

GOLD COAST CLASSIC FINALISTS

Five of the nine Gold Coast house finalists at Nave Lanes are shown receiving awards from Richard Nave after the close of the local phase of the tourney last week. From left are Ray Schmidt, Al Brewer, Forrest Allen, Bob Porteous and Joe Tucker. Other house finalists were Dud Mueller, Harvey Lewis, John Mallon and Larry Grenon. The nine keglers will travel to Sacramento to compete in the Grand Finals of the tournament July 19 through 21. Top prize in the tournament will be $2,000.

Ex-Giant Lefty Carl Hubbell Recalls His 18-Inning, 1-0 Win 30 Years Ago

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hughie Critz slammed to center, Joe Moore scored from third and the New York Giants, 30 years ago yesterday, beat the Gas House Gang of St. Louis 1-0. It was a game which winning pitcher Carl Hubbell can never forget.

For that duel on a warm afternoon before a huge crowd at the Polo Grounds lasted 18 innings and not one Cardinal reached first base on a walk. Only six got hits and 12 went down on strikes.

(For a remarkably similar performance by another Giant, Juan Marichal, exactly 30 years later, see story on page 13.)

"It probably was the greatest game I ever pitched," recalled Hubbell, who has directed the farm system operations for the Giants ever since he pitched last in 1943.

"Frankie Frisch hit a couple of foul balls into the stands and so did Joe Medwick. I had a little anxiety until those balls landed because they were in the seats and would have been home runs if fair."

Now 60 and a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, the left-handed Hubbell won acclaim and 253 games with his screwball that particularly baffled right-handed hitters.

Hubbell vividly remembers the last of the 18th inning. Jesse Haines was pitching for the Cardinals in relief of Tex Carleton, who had worked 16 scoreless frames.

"We got two on and one out and I was the batter. I hit a little grounder they tried to turn into a double play, but the ball wasn't hit hard enough, so I was on first.

"Haines didn't worry about me and took his full wind-up. I went to second and was standing there when Critz hit the ball over Haines' head and right over me. I was really happy to see that hit because I was beginning to believe nobody was going to score."

The game lasted about 3 hours, 20 minutes.

The Giants, who only tied for sixth the previous season, went on to win the pennant and beat Washington in the World Series, four games to one, as Hubbell pitched two of the triumphs.

Relaxing in his office at San Francisco's Candlestick Park, the Giants' home now, Hubbell said he didn't tire during that 18-inning stint.

"You don't notice it during the course of such a game. All that tension builds up nervous energy. About an hour after the game, I noticed it all right. That's the longest I ever pitched."

Stock Car Doubleheader Is Slated On Petaluma Track

A stock car racing doubleheader is in store for leadfoots at the Petaluma Fairgrounds this week, with at least four drivers from San Rafael and one from Novato competing.

A regular NASCAR-sanctioned program will be held tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. and on Saturday night, the regular racing card will be held featuring a 50-lap main event.

Butch Buzzard of San Rafael was trophy dash winner last week and he will be joined in the competition by three other San Rafael drivers — Dave Crumley, Jack Dempsey and Charlie Louwaert.

Novato's Rich Giubbioni walked away from a smash up in the semi-main event last week as he crashed into the north wall and tore out a gaping hole.

Davis Cup Play Moves To L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles is going to get its first look at Davis Cup tennis competition Aug. 16-17-18.

The American Zone finals between the United States and Mexico will be played at the Los Angeles Tennis Club, provided Mexico disposes of Canada.

Last year the Mexicans upset the United States 3-2 then went on to beat Yugoslavia, Sweden and India in reaching the challenge round against Australia. The Aussies turned back Mexico.

U.S. Captain Robert J. Kelleher will not decide on the makeup of his team for several weeks.

Cassius Clay Is Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Undefeated Cassius Clay, who stopped England's Henry Cooper in the fifth round as he had predicted, was named "Fighter of the Month" today by Ring Magazine.

Despite his loss, Cooper, the British and Empire heavyweight champion, was boosted in the heavyweight ratings from eighth to seventh. Clay remained the No. 2 contender behind former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Two Long Beach Gals Make It To Wimbledon Semi-Finals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, with two prized scalps dangling from her belt, braced today for a third giant-killing effort that would take her into the Wimbledon final for the first time.

The 19-year-old tomboy from Long Beach, meets British Wightman Cup star Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones in the semifinals tomorrow.

"And I guess this is the most important match of my life," Billie Jean said.

"Ann and I are all square. I beat her in the Wightman Cup in Chicago in 1961. She knocked me out of Wimbledon last year. I guess it's my turn to win again."

To reach the semifinals, Billie Jean had to knock out two favorites for the Wimbledon—Lesley Turner of Australia, seeded No. 2, and former champion Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded No. 7. The American girl was unseeded.

Last year she upset top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia in the first round.

Yesterday she cruised to a 6-2, 7-5 quarter-finals win over Maria Bueno. The Brazilian girl won in 1959 and 1960.

In the other semifinal Darlene Hard, also of Long Beach, faces top favorite Margaret Smith.

Miss Hard won by default when Jan Lehane of Australia twisted her ankle badly after one set of their quarter-final match.

Margaret Smith ousted Renee Schuurman of South Africa 3-6, 6-0, 6-1, and Mrs. Jones defeated Mrs. Donna Floyd Fales of New York 6-4, 6-1.

Langmaid Stars In Drake League

Steve Langmaid personally outscored the opposing team last night to lead the Tigers to a victory over the Pirates in the high school division of the Drake Summer Basketball League.

Langmaid bucketed 27 points in his team's 56-26 triumph. Rick Heneka was high for the losers with seven points.

In other games the Wildcats beat the Trojans 52-32 and the Giants downed the Crusaders 48-34. High scorers were Mike Ferrura (10) for the Trojans, Bob Piro (14) for the Giants and Tob O'Neil (14) for the Crusaders.

Blisses Agree To Remove Shed, On Condition—

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Bliss of Corte Madera are willing to tear down their illegally constructed shed at 534 Tamalpais Drive provided the town of Corte Madera takes action against a list of other violations in the town the Blisses have prepared.

Corte Madera town councilmen considered this proposal from Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Monday and agreed they didn't like it. The town had ordered Bliss to tear down a shed built to the property line in violation of setback regulations.

"This looks like a little face saving to me," said Sherrod S. Davis, town attorney. "I'm guessing their attorney doesn't want to go to trial."

The council agreed, however, to take a look at the Bliss violation list before acting on the proposal.

Fair Will Feature Homemade Delicacies

One of the special features of the 18th annual Marin Art and Garden Center Fair opening at 6 o'clock tonight in Ross is the Country Kitchen staffed by the Junior Social Service Auxiliary.

The Country Kitchen features homemade delicacies prepared by the auxiliary members who have also "created" fun straw hats that are garnished with flowers, feathers, fruits, animals and July 4th motifs.

Country Kitchen chairman is Mrs. John Reid (Jo Reid) assisted by Mrs. Thomas Guerrin, newly-elected president of the auxiliary, and the Mesdames David Geoffrion, Dominic Selmi, Gordon Walker, Ronald DeLucchi, Jerry Pickert, Louis Castellani, Victor Scatena, Lawrence Bernardini, Charles Brown, Julio Poletti, Howard Carlson, William Haley, William Simmons, James Bowler and William Molseed. Each member of the auxiliary is making something special to sell in the booth and some of their recipes are presented here.

GINGER APPLE PRESERVES
(Mrs. Reid)

5 pounds tart apples, peeled and cored
3 cups water
5 pounds sugar
3 lemons
½ cup preserved chopped ginger

Cut apples into wedges and place in large pot. Add water and cook until apples are just tender. Add 5 pounds sugar, the grated rind and juice of lemons, and the chopped ginger. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently for one hour, or until the syrup is thick enough to sheet from a spoon. Pack in hot sterilized jars and seal.

ORANGE NUT BREAD
(Mrs. Guerin)

1 orange
1 cup raisins
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 egg, beaten
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup nuts, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla

To the juice of one orange, add enough boiling water to make 1 cup liquid. Put orange rind, raisins through meat chopper, pour orange liquid over fruit. Stir in soda, sugar and butter. Add vanilla, egg and flour which has been sifted with baking powder and salt; then add nuts. Bake in greased loaf pan 50 minutes in 350 degree oven.

ORANGEBERRY JAM
(Mrs. Bernardini)

1 medium orange
2 10-oz. packages frozen sliced strawberries, thawed
4 cups granulated sugar
½ 6-oz. bottle liquid fruit pectin
6 medium jelly glasses
Melted paraffin

Cut unpeeled orange in quarters. Remove seeds; then using fine blade of food chopper, grind orange, drain off any juice. In large saucepan combine ground orange and strawberries, add sugar; mix well. Place in saucepan over high heat; bring mixture to full rolling boil; boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with paraffin.

Second Try

NEW YORK (UPI) — You can "re-do" dirty or tarnished brass or brass-finish hardware without disturbing any "antique" finish.

First, advises the Cleanliness Bureau here, remove and oil the screws. Then combine vinegar and salt in a ceramic dish and apply this mixture to the hardware with a soft brush.

Finally, suds, rinse, and dry each piece carefully.

Belgium Offers Dish Famous In All Europe

Do you read cookbooks just for fun . . . haunt the import section of your favorite food shop . . . experiment with exotic recipes?

You'll find an exciting array of gourmet foods and beverages in the wines, cheese and general food sections. Add a few easily purchased items from your own favorite store, and you'll have a party meal fit for the gods—or your most exacting friends.

You might plan a special family dinner or party buffet around this menu suggested by the government of Belgium. The main dish, Les Carbonnades Flamandes, is famous throughout Europe. This is the classical Belgian way of preparation.

Cream of Endive Soup
Les Carbonnades Flamandes
Boiled Potatoes
Flemish Asparagus
Beer

CREAM OF ENDIVE SOUP

1 lb. Belgian endives
1½ oz. butter
Juice of 1 lemon
Salt and pepper
¼ pint cream sauce
2 cups heavy cream

Stew one pound of Belgian endives in 1½ ounces of butter and the juice of 1 lemon. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add ¼ pint rich cream sauce, made of butter and flour, veal stock and milk. Heat and complete with 2 cups of heavy cream when serving.

LES CARBONNADES FLAMANDES

This dish is traditionally made with boned neck of beef, top shoulder, or thin flank. We found it equally tasty when beef stew meat was used.

2½ lbs. of beef stew
3 oz. cubed ham
1 lb. onions, thin sliced
1 clove garlic
Bouquet of herbs
2 lumps sugar
Salt and pepper
2 tbs. flour
4 oz. butter
1 bottle of beer
1 tsp. vinegar

Cut the meat into pieces about two inches long, one inch thick. Season with salt and pour out part of melted butter. Add the cubed ham, brown. Remove meats from saucepan, pour out part of melter butter, leaving about 2 tablespoons in the pan. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour to make a light roux. Gradually add the beer, stirring continuously. Slice onions thin and brown separately. Place herb bouquet in deep casserole, fill with alternate layers of browned onions, meat and ham. Add chopped garlic, sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Pour beer sauce over. Cover casserole, cook in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 2½ to 3 hours. Check occasionally to see if liquid still covers the meat. If not, add a little beer. Just before serving, add 1 teaspoon vinegar.

Plain boiled potatoes invariably accompany this Flemish Carbonnades, as they help "mop up" the delicious sauce.

FLEMISH ASPARAGUS

Asparagus for six people
6 hot hard-cooked egg yolks
6 oz. melted butter

Cook and season asparagus. Serve with egg yolks crushed, seasoned with salt and pepper, mixed with the butter.

Canton Ginger Cookies Go With Iced Tea

GRACE BATES' CANTON GINGER COOKIES

2 ½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 egg (beaten until thick and pale colored)
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup finely diced crystallized ginger (lightly packed)

Sift together the flour and baking powder. Cream batter and sugar; add egg and vanilla; beat to combine. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and ginger. Wrap tightly and chill overnight. Make small balls (about the size of a large marble) of the mixture and place a few inches apart on an ungreased cookie sheet; press balls about ⅛-inch thick with palm of hand. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 12 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen.

Refreshing Punch To Serve Guests

Here's a refreshing beverage that's bound to appeal to guests of all ages.

Cheese and Cracker Tray
Potato Chips
Cupcakes Summer Punch

SUMMER PUNCH

1½ cups light corn syrup
½ cup strongly brewed tea
½ cup lemon juice
¾ cup orange juice
1 cup pineapple juice
1 quart cold water
1 bottle (4 oz.) maraschino cherries, if desired
1 pint ginger ale, chilled

Mix together corn syrup, tea, lemon juice, orange juice, pineapple juice and, if used, the cherries. Chill. Add ginger ale just before serving. Serve as is or over ice cubes. Makes 2½ quarts, enough for about 12 servings.

Note: If cherries are not used, punch may be tinted a delicate pink by adding a few drops of red food coloring.

Add Corn Meal To Aid Texture

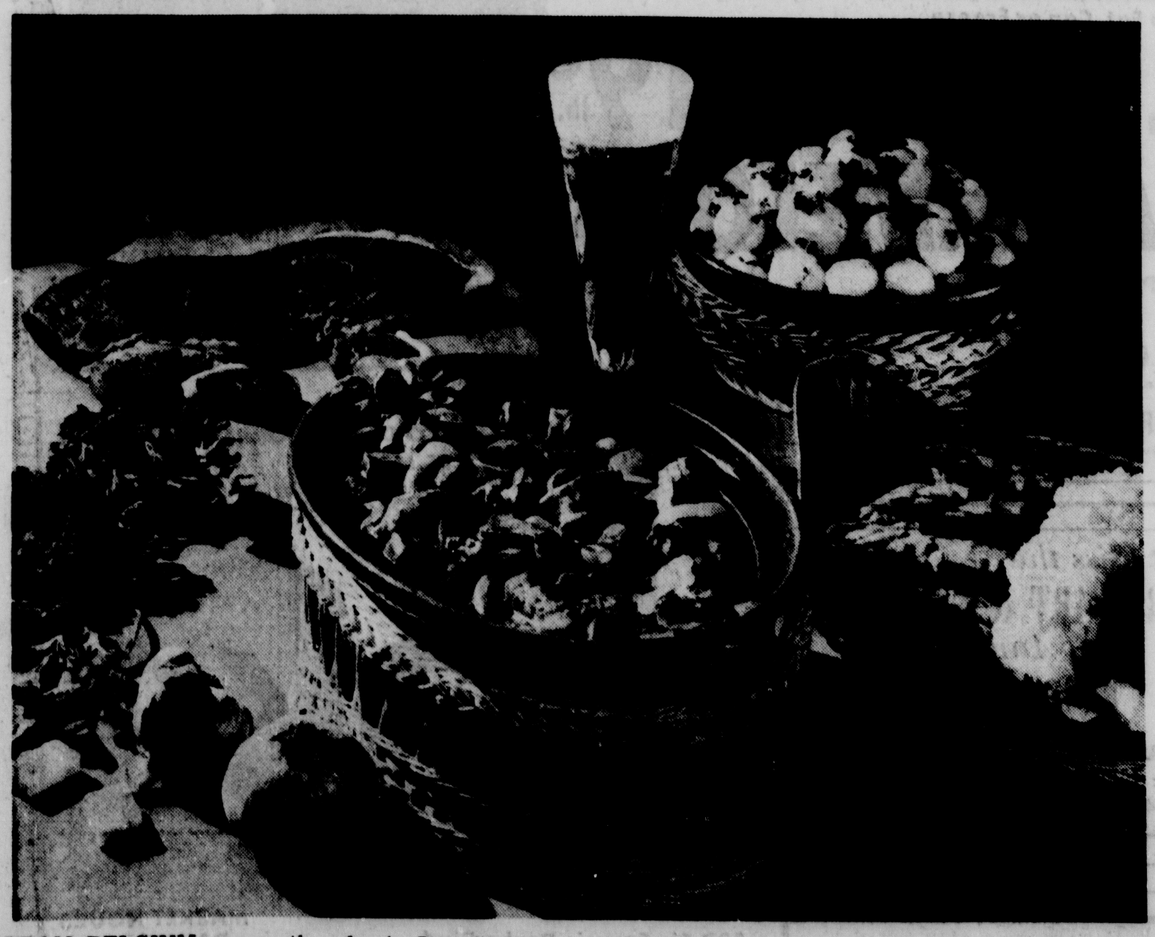

Ever add corn to blueberry fritters to give crunchy texture?

Seafood Salad Rolls
Blueberry Fritters Beverage

BLUEBERRY FRITTERS

1 cup sifted flour
½ cup enriched corn meal
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
2 tbs. sugar
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup milk
2 tbs. shortening, melted
1 cup fresh blueberries

Sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add eggs, milk and shortening; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Lightly stir in blueberries. Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot deep fat (360 degrees). Cook 3 to 3½ minutes, turning only once. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot with lemon sauce. Makes 15 fritters.

FROM BELGIUM comes the classic Les Carbonnades Flamandes, a hearty stew seasoned with beer and sugar. It combines easily obtained ingredients in a tantalizingly new taste.

VERA MAXWELL of New York introduces a "double-take" tailored coat dress for fall. The ginger brown dress is done in a loosely woven, textured English tweed, and has boldly slashed sides to let the spice-printed black slipdress show through.

(UPI Photos)

ELEGANCE IN WOOL

A heavy tweed done in a brilliant hued English mohair and wool combination in orange and brown is spotlighted in the new fall 1963 collection by Tiffeau-Busch of New York. The suit, features a dropped shoulder line which leads to bracelet-length sleeves on the demi-fitted jacket. The slender skirt has slit pockets on the sides.

TELLING THE story of wool, wool and more wool in the gayest, finest quality is this new straightline coat by George Carmel of New York. Emphasizing the light bulky shoulder look and the tapering down torso. The line of the coat, done in a textured monotone cedar red British woolen tweed, has a double breasted gently shaped front and an eased stand-away back.

Season For Hyperboles

NEW YORK (AP)—The lady who knows how to exaggerate will possess all the fashion status next fall.

There will be none of this understatement business. Style intends to be overstatement with a great big "Oh". Fashion writers here to cover semi-annual press week sponsored by the New York Couture Group can vouch for that.

They will be pressing into service all the hyperboles at their command to describe such things as:

TURTLENECKS that rise so high they must be doubled back twice or three times, or smother the wearer. Some fold down under the chin in front, but form a snug hood in back.

WAISTLINES that lifted so far up on the dress that they pass the usual bosom line to rest somewhere in the middle. As a result you can't tell a yoke from a waist.

SLEEVES, that reach to the wrist, billowy or slender, puffed, raglan style or the kimonas type, but with lots of style detailing. This is surely magnification after two winters of nothing but goose pimples to decorate arms.

SHIFTS that cease apologizing for being cinchless but slip along where the figures probably are. Not sexless, as the male population swore the old time sacks were, these inspire the masculine imagination.

A SPORTIVE LOOK that goes all out for bold checks, horseblanket plaids, a mixture of textures, colors, layers and accessories. Certainly the accessories are caricatures of the mannish look. Swiped from haberdasheries are derbies, fedoras, bowlers and caps; ascots, vests, cuff links, and high boots.

AT HOME CLOTHES so opulent that nobody would ever stay home in them unless at least 100 people plus the press and the TV cameras were dropping in. These costumes are either exquisitely luxurious long skirted gowns, or whimsical pants costumes.

GOING-OUT CLOTHES that glitter with gold and silver threads or twinkle with jewels, or clink with chandelier-like crystals. Velvets are no longer just velvet, either. Velvets are splashing, colorful prints, or sculptured flowers, woven to spidery net backgrounds, or quilted.

FURS that are not satisfied to be trimmings, or linings, or jackets or coats. This fall furs are blouses or vests, or the sleeves, or backs or fronts of dresses, or indeed the entire dress.

A lot will be written about the sportive look, all defined according to the tastes of specific designers. There are some who like layers of clothes. That is, a skirt has its own sweater or blouse, topped by its own vest, jacket, cape or coat. Sometimes the tunic is thrown in as a variation.

WITH A FEW the fabric is the same, but with many other couturiers the more variety the better. Not two, but three, or even four hitherto uncombined colors are put together, suggesting the possibility that models grabbed the wrong clothes. Fabrics are diverse, too. With tweeds go crepes or satins or velvets. Leathers and furs go with all of them.

FALL COATS are shaped in front, straight or oval in back. Or they are cape coats. Coats without sleeves become jumpers. And coats belted low and with pockets are actually coat-dresses.

In other words, dresses are very feminine, and formal or sportive and casual. Very is the word for everything, for the fall is the season for fashion superlatives.

ELEGANCE IS spotlighted for casual at-home evenings with this sheer off-white overblouse and skirt costume by Melba Hobson for Mr. Gee of New York. The ensemble is designed with a soft look, done in a lacy British woolen fabric, with an ankle-length skirt slightly shirred at the waist topped by a tucked-under blouse.

Society Faces Era Of Early Marriages

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Society faces an era of early marriages and the adult approach to them should be not one of doing battle but instead asking, "How can we make them work?"

This is the viewpoint of Dr. Margaret G. Benz, associate professor of sociology at New York University, lecturer on family and marriages at NYU since the 1930's and member of the American Assn. of Marriage Counselors.

"WE'RE IN FOR an era of teen-age marriages and the thing we should do is try to help them work," said the sociologist. "The theory just doesn't hold that if parents make things difficult enough for the young people, they won't get married.

"Waiting five more years is no guarantee of a happy marriage anyway. At least not statistically."

The sociologist has been wed for 35 years to Luke Benz, an investment counselor, and the couple has a married son and daughter and three small grandchildren.

SHE SAID THERE are several reasons why today's marriages are in the early years—many of them while the couples are still teen-agers, most of them as far as the girl is concerned by the time she is 21.

—The acceleration of physical maturity especially for the girls and over-all maturity for the young men because of military duty.

— "Increased communications" which have created an environment in which the young "realize how transitory this life is . . ."

—The parental "push," especially on the part of mothers, who, worried that their daughters might become pregnant before marriage, sigh with relief when the "I dos" are said.

—The "out" marriage offers a young man who finds school too difficult an excuse for not continuing.

THE UNIVERSITY professor said she personally is all for the early marriage "if the ingredients for success are there."

She said that in addition to love and respect of each for the other, these ingredients include:

—"Emotional maturity; a pretty vague phrase, but I'd define it as the willingness to accept responsibility for one's actions."

—"Personal readiness" of both, most likely to be found if each grew up in a home where the parents were "reasonably happy," where the child was not an only child but learned the "give and take" of daily living from brothers and sisters, and where the discipline was firm but not harsh.

—Some skill, some ability on the part of the man to earn a living.

—SIMILARITY OF the couple in race, nationality, religian and economic backgrounds.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Independence Day To Be Celebrated At Paradise Cove

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Dr. and Mrs. Lorne A. Tanner are entertaining at a barbecue at their beach home at Paradise Cove tomorrow (Independence Day). They've invited about a hundred friends to celebrate the day with them and enjoy boating, swimming, baseball, badminton, ping pong or horseshoes.

Assisting the Tanners in entertaining will be their three children, Lee, 1963 graduate of Redwood High School who will enter College of Marin this coming semester, Lloyd, who will be a freshman at Redwood and Alice, a first grader at Bel Aire School.

Also in the family group will be Mrs. Tanner's mother, Mrs. Natalie Holly, who has bought a home on Paradise Drive, which she has extensively remodeled and decorated.

Tomorrow will be a real family day at the Tanners with many of the couples bringing their children. Among the guests will be Dr. and Mrs. P. Dunlap Smith, Messrs. and Mesdames David Teather, B. L. Gustafson, Ralph Noah, A. E. Almcrants, William Di Grazia, O. W. Buckner, Vern Girtler, John Hughes, Fred Heidl, Frederic Manley, Leon Julian, Robert Jerome, Lou Long, Howard Rowebottom, Leo Souza, Frank Tedesco, John V. Carlson, Mrs. Claire Hughes and Miss Janice Bash. Over from San Francisco will be Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Lydon, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred DiGrazia and Robert DiGrazia.

Doctor and Mrs. Tanner will have as their houseguests early in August Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Galleazzi and their son, John. The Galleazzis formerly lived in Mill Valley. They have been in Saudi Arabia for the past 10 years. He is with the Arabian-American Oil Co. They come to the states about every two years to visit relatives and friends in Marin and San Francisco. John has just completed his second year of high school at Notre Dame School for Boys in Rome.

MR. AND MRS. PERCIVAL SCALES of Ross are receiving congratulations on the birth of a grandson. He is the child of Ensign and Mrs. Garrett Plant Scales (Janet King) and is named Garrett Plant Scales Jr. The baby was born June 27 at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in Los Angeles. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King of San Francisco.

LONG TIME RESIDENTS of the Belvedere Lagoon, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Shepard and their two sons, Kirk and Gordon, have moved into a new home on the lagoon. The Shepards bought the David Ross home on the tip of Peninsula Road. Mr. and Mrs. Ross have moved to Sonoma. Mr. Shepard is a commercial artist.

MR. AND MRS. RODOLFO de la CRUZ

De La Cruz-Edwards Rite Held In Hamilton Chapel

The Catholic Chapel at Hamilton Air Force Base was the setting for the wedding of Linda Ruth Edwards and Rodolfo Manuel de la Crux of Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.

The Rev. Fidelis T. Connolly officiated at the double ring ceremony June 27.

The bride, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Burke Edwards of Hamilton Air Force Base was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length sheath gown of white cloud taffeta.

Maid of honor was Katherine Moore of San Rafael. She wore a street length dress of pale peach taffeta with an overlay of marquisette. Bridesmaid was Laurel Ann Edwards, younger sister of the bride. She wore a dress of pale yellow, in the same design as the maid of honor's.

Thomas Burke Edwards, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Jeffrey Linder and Donald Dixon of Hamilton.

The benedict is the son of Senora Antonia De la Cruz Chiapini of Santo Domingo, the grandson of Senora Isable Quinones of Santo Domingo and the brother of Mrs. Lawrence Talley of Maryville, Tenn. He attended the University of Santo Domingo and has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force. The couple will return to Santo Domingo where he will complete his studies in architecture and manage properties belonging to the de la Cruz family, following his tour of duty.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Edgar Kingsbury Ruth of Cincinnati, Ohio. She attended Colegio Santo Domingo and College of Marin.

The Cottage Has A New Look With Its Sample Merchandise

"The Cottage" in Mill Valley is wearing a new look and handling a new type of merchandise nowadays.

Not only does it have window boxes of primroses but it has been redecorated, and it is now featuring brand new articles of sample merchandise in one-of-a-kind women's apparel and children's clothing. These include sportswear and some fashionable weather-resistant coats.

SPONSORED by the Family Service League, the Cottage opens its doors at 21 Madrona, Mill Valley, from Wednesday through Saturday throughout the year.

The Little Thrift Shop is staffed by volunteers of the Family Service League, an auxiliary dedicated to supporting the Family Service Agency by the twin activities of community education and fund raising projects.

THE FAMILY SERVICE Agency of Marin provides professional counseling service skilled in resolving personal and family problems. It is a non-profit and non-sectarian organization whose services are provided only to persons residing or working in Marin.

First opened about two years ago stocked with "used usefuls," the Cottage carried clothing, household treasures, records, books, toys and costume jewelry. A department of special projects made by volunteers now features aprons, beanbags, bibs and handmade doll clothes.

ANYTHING not sold within a certain period is turned over to the Church World Service for distribution to the needy.

Among the regular staffers who serve at the cottage are Mrs. Carl Mosher, manager of the Cottage and a Family Service Agency board member, and Mrs. J. V. Hawley, a past Family Service Agency president. Both live in Mill Valley.

OTHER MILL VALLEY volunteers are Mesdames Kenneth Bauder, Gordon Harrington, Blyth Adams, John McRee, Preble Stolz, Frank Russo, Eugene Crawford, Keith Kaulum, William Niedecker, Leonard Bjorklund and Ronald Olson.

Those from the Ross Valley area are Mesdames Richard Salladin, Charles Mastin and Edward Bulkley and those from the Belvedere-Tiburon area include Mesdames Charles Knapp, Warren Callister, Louis Jadot and Alfred Goldberg.

During the school vacation Tina Loeb and Susan Cope of Mill Valley have volunteered their services to the Cottage.

Ladylike Gung-Ho Shown By Viet Nam-Bound Mrs. Lodge

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—"I am extremely excited about going to Viet Nam," says the new ambassador's wife, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge. "I am looking forward to it more than I can say."

Now that's the sort of comment you'd expect from a diplomat's wife. It's enthusiastic, gracious, with just the right touch of lady-like gung ho. But with Emily Lodge you can be sure she means it. She wouldn't have said it otherwise.

"IT'S A FASCINATING part of the world," she continues the telephone interview, the edge of restrained excitement still in her voice. "Cabot and I were there—let's see—when George was a year old. That was 34 years ago. I remember it as a very beautiful country."

She concedes they'll be walking into a touchy situation, what with a war going on there against Communist-led guerrillas.

"It's a challenge," she agrees cheerfully, "and that's what makes it interesting. I'm forced out of my supine position. I don't move, you know—" she gives a self-deprecatory laugh—"unless someone pushes me. Honestly, though, I'm terribly excited about going."

What do her two sons, George and Henry, and 10 grandchildren think?

"I imagine they wish they were going too," she says with a chuckle.

SHE HASN'T THOUGHT about what clothes to take—"just cool ones."

No one will worry, though, when she does make her wardrobe selection. Mrs. Lodge is known for her unerring taste in suiting the costume to the situation.

Putting people at ease is second nature for Mrs. Lodge, a brown-eyed, brown-haired woman in her mid-50s.

While her husband was a U.S. senator 19 years and ambassador to the United Nations seven years, she was a charming hostess, combining dignity with refreshing candor. But she liked to keep out of the limelight.

IN 1960 WHEN she traveled with her husband in his campaign for the Republican vice presidency, she described her contribution as "I just pick up things we forget to pack, see that Cabot's fed, that sort of thing."

She once told a reporter that the longest speech she could remember making was to stand before a women's club and say "I'm very sorry Senator Lodge could not be with you today."

Since the campaign, she says, "I've just been enjoying myself."

SHE HAS SPENT most of the time at their 14-room French provincial home in Beverly, Mass. which looks over the Atlantic Ocean.

Beverly has always been her home. She was born into a prominent Beverly family and met her husband at a debutante party. Their wedding in 1926 was the social event of the season.

Sporting Tiles Push Athletes

NEW YORK (UPI)—A young ballplayer in your family? Or a tennis enthusiast?

Whatever the favorite sport, you can focus attention on it by hanging a mural boosting it. Such murals are available in ceramic tile, measuring one foot square. Sketches of almost every form of athletic endeavor are available.

There also is a wide selection of murals and decorated tiles which add a distinctive decorative touch to almost any room.

Samples: Indians, animals, floral designs and murals showing historical and legendary figures, such as Paul Revere and Paul Bunyan.

Bethel Greets Four Members

Four new members were initiated recently by Mill Valley Bethel 119 at an initiation and inspection meeting held at the Masonic Temple. Honored Queen Carol Mielenz presided.

Initiated were Kirstine Keldsen, Theresa Puharich, Helen Pedersen and Deborah Yeats. Inspection was conducted by Mrs. Angie Goulder, deputy grand guardian for the state of California.

Hints Are Offered To Protect Luggage

Vacation time is here. This means travel, and again, this means luggage.

Most luggage that is lost or misplaced is eventually recovered, but a temporary loss may be a great inconvenience.

1. Distinguish your luggage from that of others by marking it distinctly with bright-colored plastic tape.

2. Put an identification card inside your luggage as well as a tag on the outside.

Sailing Class Registration

The water safety service Marin Chapter American Red Cross is conducting two sailing classes from July 8 through 19 from 4 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Those wishing to participate must be at least 12 years of age and may register on July 8 at 3:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the Greenbrae Sailing Society dock. Swimming tests will be carried out at that time.

Barbara Majesky Is Bride In Ross Rite

MR. AND MRS. JON R. WILSON

In a double ring ceremony attended by family members only on Saturday afternoon Barbara Alyce Majesky of San Anselmo became the bride of Jon Richard Wilson at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. Edward H. Majesky gave his daughter in marriage.

Barbara donned a short silk and lace gown with Alencon lace bodice and silk bell shaped skirt with bow at the waist.

Her sister Linda, a sophomore at San Jose State College, was maid of honor, wearing a pale green silk and brocade dress.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, Robert Koenitzer of Petaluma, was best man and Mike Zeller of Van Nuys, formerly of Kenfield.

After the wedding a family dinner was given at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

The couple will live in Larkspur.

Barbara was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California, where she was president of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority chapter and a member of Prytanean honor society.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Wilson of Larkspur are parents of the bridegroom, who was graduated from Drake High School and the University of Arizona, where he was a Phi Gamma Delta fraternity member. Jon is employed by the Bank of California. Mrs. Robert Koenitzer of Petaluma is his sister and Mrs. Lydia Van Dyck of Santa Venetia is his grandmother.

ZONTA AWARD WINNERS

Three young women who were among the graduates of Marin high schools last month have been selected by the Zonta Club of Marin to receive the club's annual scholarship awards. From left are Joan Gearhart of Point Reyes Station, Tomales High School graduate; Kristy Frances Hotchkiss of San Rafael, Terra Linda High School graduate and Sandra Jane Monson of Fairfax, Sir Francis Drake High School graduate. All three are planning teaching careers. Joan will study at the University of California, Kristy at the University of California at Riverside and Sandra at University of Idaho.

MARINITES ASK—

Food Value Differences Are Explained By Nutritionists

The following questions were asked by Marinites at the recent food buying conference held by the Marin Council of Community Services at Marin Civic Center. They are answered here by the panel of speakers and distributed by the office of the Marin County Home Advisor.

QESTION: Is there a nutritional difference between instant and regular powdered milk?

ANSWER: No, the only difference is in the speed of dissolving.

QUESTION: Rumor or fact? Orange juice loses vitamin C content after a 10-minute exposure to air.

ANSWER: Some is lost, but not all is destroyed even with long exposure. The vitamin C is retained for several days if juice is covered and refrigerated.

QUESTION: Is it necessary for children, particularly babies, to have fat content of whole milk—use of powdered milk for budget sake.

ANSWER: Some of fatty acids are essential and must be supplied by diet. For infants on milk only, the physician must decide what is best for the baby. Older children, eating a variety of foods, would get the fatty acids from other foods.

QUESTION: Why don't they fluoridize milk?

ANSWER: There are practical difficulties that would hamper the fluoridation of any food item. Control testing would be difficult and responsibility would be divided. About the only practical and safe way to provide public fluoridation is by adding it to the water supply where it is subject to control by health authorities. If you want to use fluoride to protect your children's teeth, your dentist can give you a prescription for tablets which you can add to your own milk or water supply.

QUESTION: Will you explain what happens to the protein molecule when milk is overheated by cooking (heating) too quickly? Just how does this affect the milk?

ANSWER: The casein in milk is modified by heating so that it forms a softer, finer curd which is more easily digested by the human body. However, overheating or long periods of heating may cause some of the amino acids to react with the lactose (milk sugar) causing a change in flavor and in color (browning). The protein content remains the same, however.

QUESTION: Is liver harmful to people with gout?

ANSWER: Liver is high in purines, therefore is sometimes restricted in diet of gout patients. Some doctors today do not restrict the diets of patients with the disease.

QUESTION: Is vitamin A lost in cooking or storage?

ANSWER: Carotene and vitaman A are insoluble in water. Thus there is no loss by extraction during cooking. Exposure to air or oxygen, especially in the presence of heat, however, causes destruction of vitamin A and carotene. Air drying of such foods as eggs and vegetables results in significant loss of vitamin A value. Vacuum drying prevents such loss.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Keep Playing To Shut Dangerous Opponent Out Of Lead In Hand

In a large number of hands the key play is to shut a dangerous opponent out of the lead.

Sometimes you must extend this principle to two or three plays in the same hand.

Opening lead — ♣ K

West opens the king of clubs, and you have your first chance to see your danger and avoid it. You must refuse the first trick.

The bidding makes it clear that West has the ace of spades.

KEEP EAST OUT

If West leads spades, your king is safe; if East leads spades, your king is worthless. Hence you must try to keep East out of the lead.

The first step is to let West win the first trick. This gives up only a trick that must be surrendered sooner or later — but it gives the trick up to the safe opponent.

If you took the first trick in dummy, East would play the jack of clubs to signal possession of the ten, and West would later lead a low club to East's 10 to get a spade return.

WORKS ON DIAMONDS

Refusing the first club is not enough. You must work on the diamonds to develop an extra diamond trick; and you must still keep East out of the lead.

After winning the second trick in dummy with the ace of clubs declarer must lead the 10 of diamonds, hoping to pass it around to West.

As it happens, East covers with the jack, and South must win with the king.

SOUTH TO DUMMY

South gets to dummy with a trump and leads the nine of diamonds, hoping to pass this trick to West. East covers again, and South must win the trick.

Now south must lead his low diamond and hope that West has to win it. This is the case, and dummy's last diamond is set up.

South can get to dummy with the third round of trumps to cash the last diamond, getting rid of a losing spade in the process.

Today is Wednesday, July 3, the 184th day of 1963 with 181 to follow.

The moon is approaching the full phase. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1863, the tide of the Civil War was turned at Gettysburgh, as Union forces crushed the charge of Confederate Gen. George Pickett.

In 1890, Idaho became the 43rd state to enter the union.

In 1898, the U. S. Navy defeated the Spanish fleet in the harbor of Santiago, Cuba, in the Spanish-American War.

Art, Garden Fair Annually Epitomizes Marin's Best

As far as we are concerned, every year's Marin Art and Garden Show is "the greatest." We like them all "the best."

In fact, it is a great mystery to us that the attendance at the fair runs only 25 or 30 thousand, making it the biggest public event annually in Marin.

With 160,000 souls now inhabiting Marin, we are at a loss to understand why the annual attendance at the fair isn't 160,000 plus outsiders from other parts of the Bay Area who we know are attracted here, too.

We can't understand how anybody who lives in Marin and likes it (Are there any living here who don't like it?) could miss the event that best epitomizes Marin's greatest attractions.

Natural beauty? The Art and Garden Center in Ross where the fair is held is unsurpassed as a representation of our county's beautiful outdoors. And the natural beauty of the place is accented by the work of nurserymen and landscapers displaying their creativeness.

Culture? Marin has it and the Art and Garden Fair reflects it. In addition to the fine arts displays which annually put Marin's best foot forward, there are the craft displays and the evening programs featuring music, drama, ballet and folk dancing, among other attractions.

The fair will be open tonight until 10 p. m. It will be open from 10 a. m. till 10 p. m. through Sunday.

If you like Marin, you'll like the fair. Don't miss it.

Impenetrable Plastic Packages

Almost anything a person buys these days—from meat to medicine to marshmallows—comes tightly sealed in an impenetrable plastic package. Everything is so tightly enveloped that getting into them is a bit like a Chinese puzzle.

Some parcels are so ingeniously wrapped that there are no loose ends for the searching fingernails to grab. Pinch, pull, scrape, probe—all to no avail as nothing gives. Plastics are tougher than they used to be.

We have found the one satisfactory method of getting to the contents of most of these diabolically protected packages is to attack them with a sharp knife.

Stab . . . Rip . . . And we have it. Nuts to searching for a loose corner.

'Everything Is Blooming Now'

After observing the large number of unseasonal blossoms in our own and our neighbors' gardens, we talked to a nurseryman about it and he confirmed our notion.

"All the summer flowers seem to be blooming now," he said. "We are likely to be about bloomed out by mid-summer. The unusual weather we had this winter and spring still has the plants confused."

Well, we shall see. Perhaps by midsummer the autumn flowers will be blooming. That's the way things have been happening in Marin this year.

THE INNOCENT AT HOME

In Nation's Capitol, They're Struggling With Moon Decision

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON—Everyone in Washington seems to be divided on whether we should send a man to the moon. Just the other evening at a dinner party the table was practically split in half as the guests argued the pros and cons of the moon race.

"A stupid stunt," said one taxpayer.

"If the Russians do it first, we'll look stupid," said a lady.

"Why don't they take the money and build schools and hospitals?" another lady asked.

"Because Congress won't vote money for schools and hospitals whether we have a space program or not," a man said.

"It's too late to stop now."

"We should cure cancer instead."

"It makes employment for hundreds of thousands of people."

"What about our mental health program?"

"Columbus wouldn't have discovered America if people felt the way you did."

"Well, at least Isabella sold her jewels. The Kennedys are using our money—not theirs."

WHY GO TO the moon anyway?"

"Because it's there. That's why."

"What does it prove?"

"We could know once and for all if the moon is made of cheese or not."

"Does anyone want cheese?" the hostess asked.

"No, we were just talking about the moon."

"Oh, dear, are we having trouble there, too?"

"Just getting to it."

"Why couldn't we make a deal with the Russians? If they stopped trying to get to the moon, we would stop trying as well."

"The Russians would never agree."

"Why not? They could use the money for other things too. I hear the quality of shoes is very bad in Russia."

"That's just it. They want to get to the moon to make people forget about their shoes."

"Well, that's the silliest thing I ever heard."

"AND DON'T FORGET, if the Russians don't get to the moon first and we don't, the Communist Chinese might."

"Or even the French, God forbid."

"A good point. If the French got to the moon first, de Gaulle would be impossible."

"How much more impossible can he be?"

"Suppose the Egyptians got to the moon first?"

"They couldn't."

"Why not?"

"Israel would kidnap their German technicians first."

"That's true. Suppose Israel got to the moon?"

"The United States would not let them."

"Why not?"

"It would upset the balance of power in the Middle East."

"Why don't we help the British get to the moon first?"

"What on earth for?"

"It might save the Macmillan government."

"We tried it with the Polaris missiles. It didn't do any good."

"Well, the Russians have announced they want to send a woman to the moon and we want to send a man. Why couldn't we send them together?"

"The U. S. astronauts' wives might object."

"But nothing could happen in weightlessness."

"I wouldn't trust the Russians as far as I could throw this table."

"Is there anything wrong with the table?" the hostess wanted to know.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

College Museum Idea Supported

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The editorial suggestion of June 26 that a joint effort should be made by the Marin Junior College district and the Marin Historical Society is a very practical one and a good example of this practical public service is to be found in San Mateo County where the historical society and the junior college have worked together for more than 20 years with the blessing and occasional support of the Board of Supervisors.

The San Mateo Historical Society's museum has always been on the college campus and there has been close association with the history department. This year with another college campus, a new museum has been built with county and college funds to be operated by the historical society.

Marin's historical society needs larger and better facilities not only for educational displays and proper storage of valuable historical gifts but as a center for educating new residents in local history and helping families to get their roots into Marin County.

College of Marin, whether it be on the Kentfield campus or the new site, is a logical center for a museum with several departments, including natural history, and it is a reasonable service for a community college.

The historical significance of Rancho Olampali with its adobe structure is a good reason in itself to be the second college campus and the Burdell home is an ideal headquarters for the Marin Historical Society.

Mr. George Keyston, former president of the San Francisco Stock Exchange and an active leader of the San Mateo Historical Society, who is a donor to the Landmarks Society Wildflower Fund, only two weeks ago told me of the successful San Mateo cooperative project, and I know he would be pleased to discuss it with the I-J editors, college trustees, officers of the historical society, and county officials.

The new prospects of useful preservation and conservation in Marin are very exciting and challenging.

No Truth, Dignity Or Fairness Here

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I expect at least three things from a newspaper: truth, dignity, and fairness. Your editorial page today (June 28) violates all three of these. Don Hessie's editorial cartoons while usually low often approach a certain emetic quality. Today he implies that the critics of the House Committee on Un-American Activities "hide" behind a pillar called 5th amendment. This is patently untrue. Several esteemed Americans have openly criticized this committee. Hesse obviously does not wish to be confused by facts. However I am by now inured to his inanities.

On the other hand, I miss the fairness and dignity with which you handled letters to the editor in the past. The reader was allowed his say, uncut and uncommented upon. Now, something has changed, dots appear more and more frequently, and heaven only knows what was left out. Then, to increase the indignity, the editor takes a parting shot that can never be answered. This, I submit, is unfair.

Today, the comment that your editor made in answer to Muriel Short's letter sunk to a new low. To impugn the motives of Secretary Udall was bad enough, but to hide behind "some people think" is unforgiveable.

ALAN FIBISH
San Rafael.

(Ed. Note: Reader Fibish is in error; a seasonal decline in the number of letters to the editor has recently made it possible to run more without condensing than has been the case for months. Reader Fibish needs to know also that some people write letters liberally sprinkled with dots, for emphasis of some sort, we suppose.)

Bible Vs. Darwin In Classrooms

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I heard where it is not against the law to teach the theory of evolution in the classroom, to Christian and non-Christian children alike. Yet the "Supreme" Court has declared it unconstitutional to say the Lord's Prayer or read the Bible in the classroom.

Why should Christian children be subjected to learning Charles Darwin's theory of evolution any more than non-Christian children should be subjected to saying the Lord's Prayer or listening to a daily Bible reading?

It would seem to me that God, who created the Universe, and God's Word, the Holy Bible, would be more acceptable in the classroom than Charles Darwin's theory, which would make all man's ancestors apes.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

An American tourist, arriving at Paris Orly Airport for his first visit abroad, stopped at the restaurant near the customs counter for a bite of breakfast. What an opportunity to try out the French he had studied so laboriously from a set of phonograph records! He hailed a waiter and nervously ordered "Oeufs! Oeufs! (Eggs! Eggs') The waiter regarded him in disbelief, so again the American cried "Oeufs! Oeufs!"

This time the waiter permitted himself the suspicion of a smile and, in perfect English, said to the tourist, "If you'll stop barking at me, sir, I'll be happy to take your order."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Interview With Hitch-Hiker Leads To Meditations On Restlessness

AFTER RECENTLY interviewing a doctor of thumbology who proclaimed himself the world champion hitchhiker, I got to meditating on what a restless lot is the so-called human race.

In only one country I've visited, India, has anybody parlayed inertia into fame by just lying around and doing very little. (I shan't count Elizabeth Taylor because up to now I have never interviewed or even married Miss Taylor.)

Unless one has a talent for sitting under a Bo tree like Buddha and looking philosophical, the best way to get your name in the papers anywhere is to keep on the move.

What's more, people on the move not only get places but become well informed.

ONCE IN DENVER I met a fellow named Jack Kennedy who was in process of jumping from one airplane to another at Stapleton Airfield. I hear he is still going strong, and loaded with information.

Right here in Marin County the paper made me get out and hike with two Britons bound for New York. Strictly speaking, I got an order to interview them. It turned out that the only way to talk with them was to keep up with them.

My muscles groaned for a week after a short effort to stay in sight of these robust chaps who didn't even consider San Rafael a whistle halt between San Francisco and Black Point.

What I learned on this occasion was how to walk fast. Namely, to double one's fists, bring the forearms up and swing the arms in quarter-circles. Once you get the knack this process sort of tows you along regardless.

AB JENKINS of Salt Lake City, the salt flats speed champion, knew just as well as sports car drivers that the average car has poor steering geometry.

His hot tip was that if you buy a car with six turns of the steering-wheel lock to lock, the first thing to do was make the shop change this to quicker steering. (Sports cars have about two and one-third turns.)

"Suppose you get into a skid in a car with slow steering," said Ab. "You might just as well fold your arms and go along for the ride—no chance to correct your course."

IN SHANGHAI I met Mario diBernardi, the only man ever to win the Schneider seaplane speed trophy three times. Mario was a high flyer in more ways than one and we used to jump over chairs in Sir Victor Sassoon's Cathay Hotel while waiting for the ladies to primp.

Mario took me stunting and was so smooth the only maneuver you felt was flying upside down. What this taught me was to give up any idea of piloting.

THOUGHTS OF TRAVEL remind me that a pal over at San Quentin has been checking these postal Zip numbers and finds that his prison number, used as a Zip locator, would take a letter to the United Arab Republic. I suspect my friend is toying with the idea of mailing himself out.

Before taking up residence at San Quentin the late Caryl Chessman was one of the fastest hot-rodders in Southern California. I asked him what car he most wanted if he could get loose and he chose a Mercedes 300SL. But they gave him the gas chamber instead.

IT WAS ALSO in Marin County that I met the only man I've ever met who had been to the moon. He was a Kansas farmer in overalls who happened to have struck up friendship with some flying saucer operators from Mars, as I recall.

Now and then, as he told it, his pals would drop into his wheat field and take him off on an interplanetary ride with aid of magnetic power.

But he seemed to have gained very little by such extraordinary adventures. Life elsewhere is as drab as Kansas, I gathered.

More positive evidence came from his dog which he said was taken on one trip. The dog didn't like any of it. My opinion of dogs is higher'n a space ship.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Will JFK Trip To Europe Yield Any Significant Dividends?

WASHINGTON—After the ecstatic and tumultuous acclaim has receded from the headlines, the question before the house still has to be: is President Kennedy's mission to Europe yielding any useful and significant dividends?

It is misleading to measure the value of his trip in terms of the glowing public reception everywhere he traveled in West Germany—in Cologne, Bonn, Frankfurt, Berlin.

No President of the United States, which has done so much to put their country back on its feet—only the Germans themselves have done more—could be other than popular in Germany today. If the President had been coolly received, that would be news.

The real question is whether Mr. Kennedy used his popularity effectively in the cause of a united Western Europe as an "equal partner" with the U.S. and a strong NATO or whether after the cheers have died away little or nothing will have been accomplished.

MY JUDGMENT IS THIS:

1. President Kennedy acted at the right time—and none too soon—to raise up visible and persuasive American leadership on the European continent. He gave new impetus to a strongly united, outward-looking Western Europe to counter openly the efforts of General de Gaulle to halt the unification of Europe for reasons which seem good to him.

2. The United States government has not yet developed anything approaching a nuclear-weapons-sharing policy on which to build a genuine partnership and without which there is no good answer to General de Gaulle.

Because all of Europe, not France alone, will decide whether Europe's defense is to be united under NATO or divided outside it and whether the movement for a unified Europe is to go forward or halt, it is crucial that the alternative to the de Gaulle concept have a clear and vigorous spokesman.

President Kennedy raised his voice at the opportune moment to help clarify the choice for all Europeans.

THIS IS GOOD, but it does not come to grips with the haunting anxiety of many Europeans—not just the French—that as long as the U.S. alone decides when nuclear weapons will be used in the common defense, their own survival rests wholly in the hands of others.

This is why President de Gaulle's will to achieve a national nuclear capability has an appeal in Europe.

President Kennedy rightly envisions a strong and united Europe "as a full and equal partner."

But unless we are willing to help bring into being an independent European nuclear capability to be used at the decision of the Europeans in their own defense, Western Europe will not be "a full and equal partner."

It seems to me that this proposition is basic: There can be no "equal partnership" with Western Europe until Europe possesses an independent voice in the use of nuclear weapons in the common defense.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Special assessments may have to be paid by downtown San Rafael property owners to provide off-street parking and keep San Rafael as Marin's major shopping center, a panel on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" agreed.

20 YEARS AGO

Guy Ciocca, executive director of the Marin City housing program, brought protest from county supervisors, by disclosing that he means soon to install an $18,000 garbage incinerator. Supervisors said that was a waste in wartime, but Ciocca retorted that he didn't want to get into a political mess about the county dump.

BRUCE FLANAGAN
Named general manager

Flanagan Gets Manager Post At Loan Assn.

Bruce Flanagan of San Rafael has been named executive vice president and general manager of the newly chartered San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn., now receiving subscriptions for capital at its new headquarters at 874 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Formerly with Home Mutual Savings and Loan Assn. in San Francisco, Flanagan is a graduate of Brown University and University of Tulsa School of Law. He is a member of the Oklahoma Bar Assn. and a former branch manager for United Federal and Home Federal Savings and Loan associations in Tulsa.

Flanagan, his wife, Joan, and their four children live at 352 Mount Shasta Drive, Lucas Valley.

San Rafael Federal's nine-member board of directors is headed by Harold S. Elberg, president. Vice president is Elizabeth Rudel (Smith) Gatov, who was treasurer of the United States until she resigned last year. Marin merechant Mozart Kaufman is secretary-treasurer.

The new association's offices will be unveiled to the public next week.

Cove Residents Seek Drainage District Action

Worried that their winter flood problems would continue, 13 Cove Road residents submitted a petition Monday night to the Tiburon Sanitary District for continuation of formation of a drainage district.

"Because one large landowner had not indicated willingness to join, there was a possibility we could not continue," R. A. Sterling, secretary, said. The commission asked Sterling to try to persuade the landowner.

The commission accepted payments of $10,600 from the City of Belvedere for its share of the cost of sewage treatment for approximately six months.

The pumping station in front of the Racoon Straits Maritime Center was accepted.

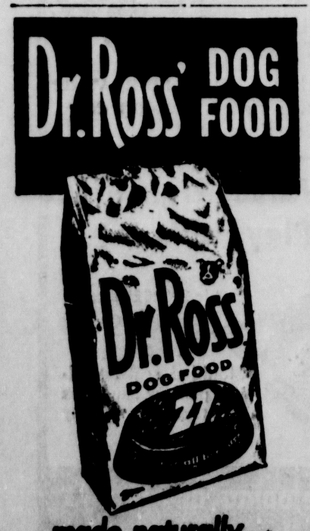

Gerstle Park Slates Cleanup

Residents in the Gerstle Park area are going to mark July 4 with a cleanup drive to make their neighborhood "the best one in San Rafael."

The Gerstle Park Assn. today urged residents to get out tomorrow and clean up.

It also recommended that the city should clean up Gerstle Park, especially on Lodge Lane and San Rafael Avenue sides where "weeds are high."

More than million Mexicans do not speak Spanish, but still use ancient native Indian tongues, the government statistics department reports.

HISTORY LESSON

Republican Leaders Note Kennedy Goofs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A couple of Republicans think the Kennedy brothers should brush up on their history.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said he caught President John F. Kennedy in the following historical errors in speeches made in Germany last week:

Kennedy said Boston was the oldest city in the United States. Wrong, said Mundt, it's St. Augustine, Fla.

Kennedy said Gen. Custer led 500 cavalry troops against Sitting Bull in 1878. Wrong again, said Mundt, it was June 25, 1876, and there were only 276 soldiers.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy came in for more of the same treatment when, while testifying on the administration's civil rights bill, he said Rhode Island was the ninth state to ratify the Constitution.

Sen. Norris Cotton (R-N.H.) caught him on that, pointing out that New Hampshire was the ninth state. Rhode Island was the 13th to ratify.

San Jose Board Asks U.S. Funds

Trustees of the San Jose Schol District Monday night agreed to apply for $433,573 from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to finance multi-use rooms at San Jose Intermediate and Loma Verde schools.

The board also called for bids on six portable classrooms and scheduled bid opening at 3 p.m., July 17.

Trustees voted to hire Mrs. Donna R. Miller to teach fourth grade at Loma Verde School and Mrs. Patricia Dedina to teach sixth grade at Pacheco School.

Bardwell Moves To San Pedro

Jay Bardwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bardwell, 46 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, consultant to the Joint Legislative Audit Committee in Sacramento, has moved to San Pedro to work with the committee's new chairman, Assemblyman Vincent Thomas (D-Los Angeles).

He also has been named secretary to the dedication ceremony committee for the San Pedro-Terminal Island Bridge.

Bardwell also is an information officer for the Army Reserve. During two-week encampment starting Friday he will edit a newspaper for the 91st Division.

Robert Beadle Wins Eagle Scout Honors

Robert Beadle, 16, Novato High School junior, received the Eagle Scout award, the highest in scouting, Monday night in ceremonies at Hill Junior High School in Novato.

Mayor M. E. Silva presented the award to Bob, who had just been made assistant scoutmaster of Troop 56 under scoutmaster Arliss Butler.

Bob started his scouting as a Cub Scout in Lincoln, Neb. He became a Boy Scout in Lakenheath, England. He was a member of troops in Bunker Hill, Ind., and San Rafael prior to moving to Novato.

He is a member of the order of the arrow and last year was head of the order of the arrow dancing team. He has 26 merit badges. During the school year, he is an assistant teacher in the Junior Cotillion conducted by Mrs. Bari Frohlich in San Rafael.

Bob is a son of Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. Henry E. Beadle of 35 Clausing Court, Novato.

Adenauer Supports European Unity With U.S.

EDITOR'S NOTE: John M. Hightower, Pulitzer prize-winning AP diplomatic reporter in Washington who accompanied the press party with President John F. Kennedy, was granted an exclusive interview with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany. Here is his story.)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, speaking between meetings with President John F. Kennedy and President Charles de Gaulle of France, said yesterday European unity "must develop in close partnership" with the United States.

At the same time, he defended the new friendship treaty between France and Germany, saying reconciliation of the traditional enemies "is the prerequisite for any form of European cooperation."

Adenauer expressed these and other views in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press. He also surveyed briefly his 14 critical years as Chancellor of West Germany and summarized the accomplishment which obviously has given him the most satisfaction.

"A backward look at the past period of German political life in my opinion," Adenauer said, "shows the greatest achievement in the time that lies behind us to have been the re-integration of the Federal Republic into the community of free nations."

At 87, Adenauer is preparing to retire, and turn over the government to Deputy Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, 66.

The interview took place in the Palais Schaumburg, where a week ago Adenauer conferred on Atlantic policy problems with Kennedy. There he will receive De Gaulle tomorrow for the first round of talks prescribed under the new French-German pact, which calls for regular consultation between Bonn and Paris.

The talk covered relations between the western powers and the Soviet Union, Adenauer's conferences with Kennedy, his forthcoming meeting with De Gaulle, and his own plans. Expanding on the written replies, his comments left no doubt that he is a friend and admirer of De Gaulle and that he was well pleased with his talks with Kennedy.

If his reactions appear contradictory, it can be said that he does not see them that way. Adenauer is convinced, as Kennedy also has said publicly, that De Gaulle is committed to the essentials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and that no discussion over policy will break the basic commitment.

Here are questions and answers spelling out Adenauer's view:

Q. Since you and President de Gaulle signed a treaty early this year setting up a special relationship between Germany and France there has been some apprehension in the United States and other western countries that this relationship might develop contrary to the wider interests of the Atlantic Alliance. What is the purpose of the treaty?

A. If you are to be able to evaluate the German-French treaty rightly, you must see what preceded it in the way of conflicts between France and Germany over the course of centuries. You must see, in addition, that France and Germany are threatened to the same degree by the Soviet Union.

The treaty ends a conflict that has stretched over 400 years. It is that fact which gives the treaty its place in history.

Since the beginning of our political activity in the Federal Republic, it has been our intention to establish a lasting friendship between Germany and France, and to prevent situations in which the two countries once more could be played off against one another.

Both nations today present a firm bulwark against the threat to Europe from the East. This friendship, too, is the prerequisite for any form of European cooperation. German-French friendship is the guarantee of peace in Europe. That is a factor of great significance to the United States.

KONRAD ADENAUER
Chancellorship Nears End

Q. Mr. Chancellor, you have guided German destinies through a remarkable recovery from the disastrous heritage of Naziism and war into a new historical era. What accomplishment do you consider most significant, most fundamentally important, during this decisive period?

A. A backward look at the past period of German political life in my opinion shows the greatest achievement in the time that lies behind us to have been the reintegration of the Federal Republic into the community of free nations.

The German people feel gratitude and friendship toward their allies and have made this feeling highly tangible.

Q. For several years U.S. leaders have been concerned about the dangers of a nuclear arms race among the allies, fearing that if France developed a nuclear force a demand for such a force would arise also in Germany and perhaps in other NATO nations. Do you regard this as a serious problem? Do you feel that a multilateral arrangement, providing for joint ownership and control of nuclear weapons, affords a permanent alternative to national forces?

A. The Federal Republic seeks the national control over atomic weapons. Our government has welcomed the project for a multilateral naval force armed with medium-range rockets.

Within the realm of our capabilities we are ready to take part in this international project. I do not believe that other NATO nations will follow the example of France.

Q. Another issue which troubles allied relations is that of trade between the European Common Market countries and countries like the United States and Britain which are outside the market. Does Germany's long range interest lie in lowering tariffs, or does it lie in a protective system of duties and quotas?

A. The Federal Republic, within the framework of the European Economic Community, all along has supported a lowering of the community's external tariffs in respect of other trading partners.

It is very much in the German interest that this policy of lowering the European Economic Community's common external tariffs is continued. A period of adjustment and transition is, of course, necessary. In addition, the American trade and tariff policy must react appropriately to this policy.

Q. Do you feel that future political development among the nations of the western world will move toward some kind of supernational organization either in Europe or in the Atlantic community?

A. A European political and economic unification will come about, but along the way we must have patience. I should like to recall that a few weeks ago the parliaments (in Bonn and Paris) ratified the Franco-German treaty which is one of the most important prerequisites for European political cooperation. In other further work for Europe, we should proceed not dogmatically but pragmatically.

Q. As you approach the time for retirement are you able to say yet what plans you have for the future?

A. The pressure of work still leaves me little time to make personal plans for the future. After my resignation my political activity will serve the further consolidation of the major project of my political lifetime—the accession of Germany to the community of free people.

I would like to write my "memories" and, if it is necessary and desired, also to travel in the further service of my country.

WITHOUT REALLY TRYING IS TO CALL OUR OFFICE AND LOOK AT THIS FANTASTIC PROPERTY!
THE STAR OF OUR SHOW is a secluded 3 bedroom, 2 bath house that has a tropical plant solarium entry with hibiscus and orchids in bloom—interior rock walled with a raised hearth fireplace to match — a Roman glass walled bath with sliding doors to its own delightful (drying) patio—a master bedroom with grass cloth walls that has its own private entry to the enclosed yard with beautifully landscaped pool, with a tropical flowing fountain, rock garden fish pond! It's also a home that thinks domesticity—one with a (kitchen of tomorrow) that incidentally has a pantry larger than most bedrooms! NOT AN EICHLER—but a custom built beauty by an owner of vision and appreciation of artistic privacy, design and beauty that you couldn't possibly duplicate at the asking price of $38,500.

RESOLUTION NO. 2815
A RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO SELL ELECTRIC DISTRIBUTION AND TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENTS WITHIN NORTHGATE INDUSTRIAL PARK, UNIT ONE, IN THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL AND PROVIDING FOR NOTICE AND HEARING THEREON

RESOLVED, by the City Council of the City of San Rafael, California, that

WHEREAS, on March 4, 1963, the City Council of said City adopted its Resolution No. 2749, A Resolution of Intention to Acquire and Construct Improvements by Special Assessment and Assessment Bond Proceedings, Northgate Industrial Park, Unit One, which proceedings include the construction of telephone and electric facilities together with all appurtenances thereto;

WHEREAS, said improvements are generally described in said Resolution of Intention, and are more particularly shown on the plans and specifications filed with the City Clerk pursuant to said special assessment proceedings;

WHEREAS, said telephone and electric facilities lie within the respective service areas of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, existing private utilities;

WHEREAS, in order that said telephone and electric facilities may become useful for the purposes for which they are constructed, it is necessary that they be connected to operating telephone and electric distribution systems;

WHEREAS, said City does not now own or operate a public telephone and electric system to which connection of said telephone and electric facilities to be installed may be made, and the City cannot economically operate and maintain such telephone and electric facilities; and

WHEREAS, said existing private utility companies operate, respectively, telephone and electric systems within areas adjacent to Northgate Industrial Park, Unit One, to which certain segments of the telephone and electric facilities may be connected, and each private utility is willing to purchase portions of the improvements which are susceptible of service by it, upon terms and conditions as agreed to by each of said public utilities and said City, and to furnish telephone and electric service to the properties assessed for the cost of the telephone and electric facilities through and by the said facilities upon terms and conditions and in accordance with applicable rules and regulations of each of said utilities as filed with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, subject to all changes, revisions and amendments as may be ordered or approved by said Commission.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY FOUND, DETERMINED and ORDERED, as follows:

1. That the telephone and electric facilities will not be useful for the purposes for which they were or are to be constructed, in that the improvements cannot be connected to any existing public telephone and electric system, and that arrangements have been or will be made for connection to the existing private utility systems of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company; that the improvements cannot be economically and efficiently operated and maintained by the City of San Rafael because said City does not own any telephone and electric system to which the telephone and electric facilities to be installed could feasibly be connected; that said City has no facilities, personnel or ability for the operation and maintenance of said improvements for providing or supplying telephone or electric service; that said Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and Pacific Gas and Electric Company are the only utilities or persons or corporations that have the facilities, personnel or ability for the operation and maintenance of said improvements and providing telephone and electric service; and that calling or advertising for bids prior to the sale herein proposed would be futile and useless under the circumstances and would not result in competitive bidding and that the public interest will be furthered by the sale herein provided without first calling or advertising for bids.

2. That it is the intention of the City Council of the City of San Rafael to sell the telephone facilities to be constructed to said existing private utility, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, and to sell the electric facilities to be constructed to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, each of which utilities service the area of the assessment district, for the reasons hereinabove stated without calling or advertising for bids.

That title to the proposed street lighting system, including standards, conduits and all necessary appurtenances shall continue to remain in the City, and said facilities are not included in the proposed sale to Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

3. That Monday, the 5th day of August, 1963, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M., in the regular meeting place of said Council, Council Chambers, City Hall, San Rafael, California, be, and the same are hereby appointed and fixed as the time and place when and where persons objecting to the proposed sale may appear before said Council and show cause why the proposed sale shall not be made. At said time and place any owner of property assessed or being assessed to pay for the construction of the improvements proposed to be sold may appear before the Council and object to the sale.

At any time not later than the time set above for hearing objections, any owner of property assessed or being assessed to pay for the construction of the improvements proposed to be sold may make and deliver to the City Clerk of said City a written protest against the proposed sale. Failure to object in writing at said time will constitute a waiver of all objections to the proposed sale and a bar to any subsequent attack on the validity of such sale.

4. That the City Clerk of said City be, and he is hereby, directed to give notice of said hearing by causing this resolution to be published once a week for two successive weeks in the San Rafael Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation in said City.

• • • •

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of a resolution duly passed and adopted by the City Council of the City of San Rafael, California, at a meeting thereof held on the 1st day of July, 1963, by the following vote of the members thereof.

AYES, and in favor thereof, Councilmen: Aby, Baar, Barbier, Jensen, and Mayor McInnis

No mistaking the fingerprint ... of honest circulation

That A.B.C. imprint may be new to you. Yet you as a reader created it. And you, if an advertiser, have a vital stake in it. For it has the strange and wonderful stamp of integrity itself.

No publisher can buy it. He must earn it. No one can challenge it. No one can mistake it. For A.B.C. is the official "fingerprint" of circulation by the national guardian of the facts—the non-profit Audit Bureau of Circulations.

We belong to the A.B.C. But their figures on our newspaper belong to you, the public. They audit our circulation records... show where every copy goes, to how many people, and what they paid for it—everything.

But something more than figures comes out of the A.B.C. audit. A paper emerges that has won the hard-earned respect of its readers. For A.B.C. uses the most exact of all measures—paid circulation. They know, as do you, that readers don't pay for a newspaper unless they want it... nor want it if it's not worth paying for.

A.B.C. then, is really your mark of approval, as a reader. And our mark of known circulation values... to an advertiser. One serves the other and the paper serves both.

We welcome anyone to look at our "fingerprints" anytime. They're on record. For integrity—in publishing as in anything else—has nothing to hide.

Independent-Journal — Member, Audit Bureau of Circulations

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Accident Prevention Among Small Children Parents' Responsibility

VAN DELLEN

Children under age 15 constitute 40 per cent of the total population. Accidents are the largest single cause of death in this age group. Three times as many die in this way as from cancer and almost four times as many as from congential defects. Accidents kill more boys and girls than the four leading fatal diseases combined.

Almost 60 per cent of the total number of mishaps occur at home. This is understandable because youngsters are inquisitive and learn by exploration, sampling, questioning, imitating, and by trial and error methods. Need we say more?

THERE IS NO sense in denying the existence of hazards in the home. They are there, and passive protection of the smallfry is not enough. According to Dr. Jay M. Arena, adults make two mistakes when it comes to accident prevention. They credit the child with more intelligence than he possesses or assume he is able to think for himself.

Toddlers must explore the entire house or apartment. They want to see, hold, touch, or taste everything. They love to open boxes, climb here and there, and pull whatever is in sight. They are too young to recognize danger and the wise mother puts all knick-knacks out of reach and keeps poisons and small objects out of sight or behind locked doors. Accident prevention at this age is the parents' responsibility.

WITH GROWTH and development, the little one must be taught how to deal with normal perils of the world in which he lives, and how to distinguish between the dangerous and the safe. The basic approach centers about the discipline of obedience, which must be stressed over and over again. This is easier when the parents understand the different stages of development.

Injuries are more likely to occur before meals, at bedtime, or during overactivity. The same applies to sudden changes in environment, as in moving or at vacation time; or when mother is ill, too busy, or has her attention diverted by sickness in other members of the family. These are the additional family strains that contribute to the high accident toll in children.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TIRED MOTHER

Mrs. J. A. writes: I have nine children and am expecting the 10th. I am 32 years old and feel weak and rundown all the time. Do you think having children so fast is causing this trouble?

REPLY

I suspect your weakness comes from taking care of rather than bearing so many children.

STONY LUNGS

A. E. writes: What is meant by calcification of a lung lesion?

REPLY

Some lung lesions turn to stone after they heal. Calcium is deposited in the scar tissue until it becomes as hard as rock.

ORANGE FALLACY

Mrs. J. writes: Is is true that the Florida citrus commission has discovered that oranges cause cancer?

REPLY

Heavens forbid. If this were true, most of us would be dead by now.

SWOLLEN THYROID

D. W. B. writes: Does goiter cause swelling in the throat or the neck?

REPLY

In the neck. A large goiter may press on the windpipe, but rarely on the throat.

Bennett Aims To Save State Scenic Beauties

William M. Bennett, 45, of 35 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands, elected president of the California Public Utilities Commission yesterday, is a firm believer in the need to preserve the beauties of the state.

"Once the natural beauties are destroyed, they will never come back," he said in a recent interview.

All activities and developments, not just those of utility companies and transportation firms which the PUC governs, must take scenic values into consideration in their plans, he said.

A Marin resident for over a year, Bennett and his family appreciate the natural beauties of the county. He is also concerned about the threatened loss of this beauty.

He would like to see utility lines put underground in future developments.

"There is nothing uglier than a line of power poles," he said.

However, the cost of underground lines cannot be born by the utility companies unless residents are willing to pay more.

Bennett, a graduate of the University of San Francisco Law School, worked first as an attorney for the 12th Naval District. From 1949 to 1959 he was deputy attorney general, his first state job. Next he served as chief counsel for the PUC, a job he held until his appointment to the commission Jan. 1 by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

A native of San Francisco, he attended Holy Redeemer School, St. Ignatius High Schol and Hastings School of Law.

World War II interrupted his legal studies. He became a B-17 pilot and flew 50 missions over Europe. He was awarded the distinguished Flying Cross with cluster.

A major legal victory in Bennett's career was the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling in the El Paso Natural Gas Co. case in favor of California. The verdict will mean a big savings in cost of gas for California consumers.

Bennett also successfully represented California in opposing one of Caryl Chessman's appeals. However, Bennett is opposed to the death penalty.

During the Kennedy campaign, Bennett took a five-week leave of absence to work for the candidate.

Bennett and his wife, Jane, have four children, William Jr., 16, James, 12, Michael, 6, and Joan, 5.

Novato To Ring Old Church Bell

The city of Novato, which has a bell it can ring this year, will ring it at 11 a.m. tomorrow, Mayor M. E. Silva said last night.

When the city acquired the Presbyterian Church properties for a civic center, the bell was retained by the church. However, it has not been moved to the new church on Wilson Avenue and is still hanging in what will be the city hall.

So tomorrow, someone from the city wil ring the bell in observance of Independence Day and Novato will follow President John F. Kennedy's suggestion, Silva said.

KTIM Program Set On Rights

President Kennedy's civil rights program and its effect nationally and locally will be dismissed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" tomorrow from 9 to 10 a.m.

Speakers will be Hardy Westmore, a butcher; Rev. Samuel I. Banks of the Marin City Village Church; Maxwell Hull, chairman of the steering committee of the Marin Committee for Fair Play, and Norman Campbell, business representative of Carpenters Union Locals 35 and 1710.

Kitty Oppenheimer will be moderator, and will direct questions telephoned by listeners to the speakers. The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Patton At Display

Army M/Sgt. Harold V. Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Patton, 9 Agatha Court, San Anselmo, participated in a massive display of missiles, artillery and engineer equipment in honor of President John F. Kennedy's visit in Hanau, Germany, June 25.

NEW HOSPITAL ROOMS PUT TO USE

Crowding ceased at Marin General Hospital yesterday as first patients were moved into the new Babcock Memorial Wing. Work on many final items is still continuing in the new wing, but rooms will be put to use as completed. Here, Helen Waters (fireground), director of nursing, and Mrs. Myrvel Schirmer, head nurse, make patient Alice Emerson comfortable in new, ultra-adjustable bed in the Babcock Wing. Novato Chamber Asks High Freeway Priority

Novato Chamber of Commerce directors Monday night voted to urge the California Division of Highways to give top priority to the Highway 101 freeway by-pass of Novato.

The action was taken on urging of Joseph Wright of the Downtown Novato Improvement Assn.

8 State Committees To Study Schools

SACRAMENTO (C N S) — Thomas W. Braden, president of the State Board of Education, said the board will skip its customary summer vacation in order to get eight committees working on plans to improve state schools.

The task forces will make recommendations to the full board next fall. The committees and their chairmen and areas of study included:

Credentials and accreditation, Braden, make sure teacher training institutions carry out new licensing requirements.

High school standards, Mrs. Seymour Mathiesen, Fresno, the awarding of diplomas to students who have failed to master such basic subjects as reading and composition.

More meaningful instruction in the bill of rights, Bishop Gerald Kennedy, Los Angeles.

Basic economic education, Ben N. Scott, Harbor City.

Vocational education, Mrs. Talcott Bates, Carmel, technological advances and high school dropouts.

School year, Raymond J. Daba, Atherton, fuller utilization of expensive classroom space, as well as possible longer school days.

Financial formula, Nathaniel Colley, Sacramento, adoption of primary school textbooks.

Legislative program for better education, William A. Norris, Pasadena, identification of areas needing legislative attention.

Sausalito Board Changes Grades

Sausalito's four schools will each have different grade setups when school reopens next fall.

Trustees Monday night approved reassignment of grades as follows: Central, now kindergarten through third grade, will become kindergarten through second; Bayside, now 3-6, will become 3-4; Richardson Bay, now 4-8, will become 5-8, and Manzanita, now kindergarten through fourth.

Manzanita, in Marin City, was changed, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, to enter the ungraded program. Central and Bayside schools were changed because of greater enrollment in primary grades. In order to make these changes, fifth and sixth graders were all placed in Richardson Bay and third and fourth graders at Bayside, said Davis.

Healdsburg Poultryman Named To Committee

Clemens H. Casperson, Healdsburg poultryman, has been named to the Farmers Home Administration area committee serving Sonoma, Marin, Lake, Mendocino and Napa counties.

Other members of the committee are J. L. Lagomarsino of Santa Rosa and Svend Stowring of Petaluma. Casperson, who succeeds Roy Soiland of Santa Rosa, will serve a three-year term.

Tiburon Safeway Gets Plan Nod

Plans for a proposed Safeway supermarket in Fred G. Zelinsky's Belvedere Shopping Center were approved for architectural supervision Monday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The market, at Tiburon Boulevard near Beach Road, will also include a 150-space parking lot surrounded by trees.

Commissioners also approved a use permit for extra shops to be located on a three-acre site next to the supermarket, with parking space for 425 cars.

Road Deaths Seen To Top Memorial Day

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Highway Patrol predicted today that between 63 and 73 persons will be killed in traffic accidents in the state during the 102-hour Fourth of July holiday.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden noted that 62 were killed over Memorial Day, which was also a four-day holiday. The patrol count covers the period from 6 p.m. tomorrow to midnight Sunday.

"The Fourth of July estimate is higher because school is out, many more vacationers are on the highways, and undoubtedly large numbers of Californians will take a four-day weekend," said Crittenden.

"Motorists have it within their power to hold deaths well below the estimate. We hope the Memorial Day carnage — which was a record for that holiday—is still clearly in their minds, and that motorists will respond by driving within the law.

"Every available traffic officer will be on duty with instructions to concentrate against hazardous violations—those responsible for accidents. But without motorist cooperation, the toll could easily establish another record."

The record for a four-day Fourth of July holiday is 52 dead, set in 1957.

IT'S THE CHILDREN

Highway Patrolman Turns In His Badge

AUBURN (AP) — After eight years in the highway patrol, Officer Stanley Perkins has resigned because he can't bear to look at any more mangled children.

"I've had my stomach full of it," said the 33-year-old Perkins after he turned in his resignation Monday, effective immediately. He had seen two children die in an accident Sunday morning.

"What shakes you the worst is seeing little kids looking at their injured brothers and sisters just screaming.

"It's gotten so when I hear the radio call out there is an injury accident I break out in a cold sweat.

"I don't mind seeing the dead. It doesn't bother me too much. It's watching them die that breaks a person up.

"I've worked a lot of accidents where I could not eat for a day or two. After the accident Sunday, I couldn't sleep Sunday night or eat. It's the children—the children that shake you.

"If all the drivers could see what a few see, they would drive a hell of a lot different."

Perkins said he is going into the real estate business. His wife and two children are all for it.

Wac Lawyers Invited

Qualified women attorneys may now be commissioned as Army lawyers to serve with the Judge Advocate General's Corps, the Women's Army Corps announced today. Applicants can get further details from the Army Recruiting Station at 819 A Street, San Rafael.

Supervisors Set Policy On Funds For Promotion

Marin County supervisors yesterday adopted a policy that promotion and development organizations receiving funds from the county must sign contracts promising specific performance of benefit to Marin.

Twenty-three such organizations have applied for financial grants for the new fiscal year. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported today that about two-thirds of these have indicated willingness to enter into such arrangements.

County counsel was directed to prepare a standard contract which is to be subject to approval of each contract by the board as to specific services, money and reporting requirements.
